Chandrayaan-3 gets craft gets closer to Moon

The Chandrayaan-3 spacecraft has covered about two-thirds of the distance to the Moon since its launch on July 14. Over five moves in the three weeks since, ISRO has been lifting the spacecraft into orbits farther away from Earth. On August 1, in a slingshot move, the craft was sent successfully towards the Moon from Earth's orbit. On Sunday, in another crucial manoeuvre, the spacecraft will be injected into Moon's orbit.

Videograb of a drone approaching a Russian ship close to the Black Sea port of Novorossiysk | AP

UKRAINE ATTACKS RUSSIAN WARSHIP STATIONED IN BLACK SEA PORT

The seaborne drone strike on Novorossiysk marks the first time a commercial Russian port has been targeted in the 18-month conflict

VESSEL SUSTAINS MAJOR DAMAGES: KYIV

It was the latest in a series of attacks by Ukraine on targets inside Russia. Ukrainian officials said the missiles inflicted significant damage on the Russian landing ship Olenegorsky Gornyak. The Port of Novorossiysk is one of the largest Black Sea ports, and the attack on it comes weeks after Moscow's withdrawal from a deal that allowed Ukraine to export its grain through the waterway

RUSSIA CLAIMS IT REPELLED THE ATTACK

- Mykhailo Podolyak, an advisor to Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy, said drones are changing the rules of game. Analysts say the attack shows Kyiv can target any vessel of Russia's Black Sea Fleet
- The Russian defence ministry, meanwhile, claimed its navy fended off Friday's attack, saying its ships destroyed two Ukrainian sea drones | P14

Supreme Court stays Rahul's conviction

Door opens for putting disqualification from Lok Sabha in abeyance

Rahul Gandhi with Priyanka Gandhi at AICC headquarters on Friday | PARVEEN NEGI

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

IN a move that could pave the way for revival of Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's Lok Sabha membership, the Supreme Court on Friday stayed his conviction in a criminal defamation case over his Modi surname remark made during a political rally in 2019.

A bench of justices B R Gavai, P S Narasimha and Sanjay Kumar said that the Gujarat trial court, which awarded the Congress leader the maximum punishment for the offence, failed to give any reasons to back its decision. Terming the offence of defamation 'non-cognisable, bailable and compoundable', the court said the trial judge ought to have given some reasons as to why he found it necessary to impose maximum sentence.

The ruling came in a plea by Gandhi after the Gujarat High Court refused to stay the conviction. The SC noted that even the HC, while upholding the conviction, failed to give the reasons for maximum punishment for a non-cognizable offence.

Underscoring that Gandhi would not have been disqualified as an MP had the sentence been a day lesser than two years, the SC said that the conviction not only affected his individual right to continue in public life but also that of the electorate who elected him to represent their constituency.

Meanwhile, the SC noted that Gandhi's utterances were not in good taste.

Gandhi's counsel AM Singhvi told the bench that the lower courts had silenced him for eight years. "In a criminal cause I apologised in a contempt matter and in the other there is no conviction... I'm not a hardened criminal and there is no conviction in any case..... so I'm a criminal? There has to be some mutual respect in politics," he said.

Senior advocate Mahesh Jethmalani, appearing for Purnesh Modi who filed the defamation suit, said there were witnesses and recordings of Gandhi's comments and the evidence pointed towards clear intent to defame an entire community because of his hatred for Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

WHAT NEXT

The Congress leader will be formally reinstated after the Lok Sabha Secretariat issues a notification revoking his disqualification. In a similar case, disqualified NCP MP Mohammad Faizal's LS membership was restored in March after he obtained a stay of his conviction in a criminal case from Kerala HC

Truth alone triumphs, says Rahul

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

IN his first reaction to the Supreme Court staying his conviction in the Modi surname row, Congress leader Rahul Gandhi said truth will always triumph and he is committed to protecting the idea of India.

"If not today then tomorrow, if not tomorrow then the next day, the truth will win. But whatever happens, my path is clear," he said at a press meet here on Friday, also attended by Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge and senior leaders K C Venugopal, Jairam Ramesh and Abhishek Manu Singhvi.

Noting that Gandhi was disqualified from the Lok Sabha within 24 hours of his conviction, Kharge said it is to be seen how long it will take to reinstate him after the SC relief. "We will wait," he said.

Constitutional experts point out that the ball is now in Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla's court as the Lok Sabha Secretariat has to issue a notification to revive Gandhi as the MP of Wayanad. Meanwhile, the Speaker's office said it will study the SC order and will act as per rules.

Congress leader in the Lok Sabha Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury said he met Birla and urged him to reinstate Gandhi at the earliest. "The Speaker asked me to submit the SC order. Once he gets the order, he will examine it," said Chowdhury.

He added that the party is keen that Gandhi leads the no-confidence motion in the Lok Sabha, which will be taken up on August 8.

Meanwhile, Gandhi visited RJD chief Lalu Prasad late in the evening reportedly to chalk out strategy for LS polls.

Principal held for raping Class 2 girl

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A 65-year-old principal of a private school near Gunjur on the ourskirts of the city was arrested by Varthur police for reportedly raping a second standard dyslexic girl student at his house on Thursday.

The house of the accused is adjacent to the school. The incident happened after the girl went to school in the morning.

After returning home around 4.30 pm, the victim complained of stomach pain. Her mother noticed blood stains on her thighs and other parts of the body when she took her to the bathroom. The accused, who also owns the school, is said to have taken the girl home promising her chocolates around 11.30 am. He allegedly raped the girl and sent her back to school after giving her a piece of cake. The victim, who narrated her ordeal to her mother, was taken to a nearby hospital. After confirming it as a medico-legal case, doctors at the hospital reported it to the jurisdictional police. A team of police personnel visited the hospital and recorded the statements of the girl.

Preliminary investigations revealed that the accused is involved in the act. The statements of the victim have been recorded as per the guidelines of the Child Welfare Committee, S Girish, DCP (Whitefield Division), told reporters.

The victim's mother is a housewife. Her husband died in 2020 due to ill health. Varthur police have registered a case under various sections of the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act (POCSO).

It's bulldozer justice in Nuh

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

BULLDOZER justice was in full play in riot-torn Nuh in Haryana as around 50 houses and 250 shanties of the alleged accused and suspects in the recent communal violence have been razed.

Sources said that in nine locations in Nuh, houses of alleged accused were bulldozed. Buildings in five acres of land in Nalhar that either belonged to the accused or were used to fire bullets at pilgrims hiding in the Nalhar Mahadev temple during Monday's riots were flattened as they were allegedly illegally erected on forest department land.

Also, houses at Khedla Mor where violence was at its peak were bulldozed. Besides dwellings in six acres in Punhana, one acre in Pinnagwana, two acres in Nangal Mubarikpur and similar lands in Dharna village were flattened. On Thursday 250 shanties in Tauru were pulled down.

Migrants prepare to relocate after violence in Gurugram | PTI

Haryana Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar justified the bulldozer justice, saying the government had zero tolerance for encroachments and illegal constructions.

In a related development, Trinamool Congress MP Saket Gokhale alleged that several Muslim migrant families working Gurugram were heading home to Bengal as they fear being attacked and chased by miscreants from their shops and houses.

When contacted, Gurugram Police Commissioner Kala Ramachandran said there was no such exodus. A few might have left but they will come back, he added.

Polls to 225 BBMP seats in Dec: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TRANSPORT Minister Ramalinga Reddy on Friday said the much-delayed elections to the BBMP council will be held in December.

Addressing reporters here, Reddy said elections will be held for 225 seats. BBMP had 198 wards. After the delimitation exercise during the BJP rule, the number of wards went up to 243. However, the Congress government issued a new order now fixing the number of wards at 225, he said.

Reddy said that a committee has been formed for delimitation of wards in a scientific manner. P4

5 drunk men pee in front of house, attack father, son

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

IN a horrific incident, five drunk men dragged a 65-year-old man out of his first-floor house after he and his daughter warned them not to urinate in front of their house at RT Nagar.

The incident happened between 10.55 pm and 11.15 pm a few days ago. The accused were arrested after the incident.

The elderly man's son, Jeevan Shetty (30), an aeronautical engineer, who rushed to the rescue of his father was beaten up badly. The accused also abused the elderly man's daughter, who is a software engineer, and his wife when they pleaded not to harass them.

The gang members, who came by a car, stopped in front of the victims' house behind Pushpanjali Theatre in RT Nagar and started urinating there. The victims did not get any help from their neighbours, who just stood watching what was happening. A policeman in plainclothes rushed to their rescue and gave his cell phone to them to call the police control room. P7

Apex court refuses to stay ASI survey at Gyanvapi mosque

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday refused to stay the Allahabad High Court order allowing a survey by the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) at Gyanvapi mosque premises. The survey to determine if the 17th-century structure was built upon a pre-existing temple began on Friday morning.

A bench of Chief Justice of Inida D Y Chandrachud, justices J B Pardiwala and Manoj Mishra said it must be a "non-invasive survey" without any excavation or causing damage to the structure of the mosque. Challenging the HC order, senior advocate Huzefa Ahmadi appearing for the Anjuman Intezamia Masjid Committee, said conducting the survey was contrary to the provisions of the Places of Worship Act, 1991 and that it violated the principles of fraternity and secularism. He said the survey will reopen the wounds of the past.

"When you order a survey, when you see as to what existed, you're unraveling the wounds of the past," he said.

The bench responded by saying, "You can't oppose every interlocutory order on the same ground... The order of the trial judge directing a scientific investigation cannot prima facie be construed to be without jurisdiction. The high court was correct in our view to introduce some directions to circumscribe the order of the district judge. The ASI has clarified that there is neither excavation nor there would be destruction of property," the SC said.

Lokayukta raids unearth massive irregularities in BBMP offices

Team finds cash; Officials rejected khatas, kept files pending, flouted Sakala norms

The Lokayukta team conducts a raid at a Revenue and Town Planning office of the BBMP in Bengaluru on Friday | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TAKING note of the veracity of harassment meted out to the public, while unearthing huge irregularities during a raid conducted on 45 offices of the Revenue and Town Planning departments of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike, the Karnataka Lokayukta is contemplating registering separate complaints against each zone of the civic body.

According to sources, on Friday, officials of the judicial and police wings submitted detailed reports to Justice BS Patil on irregularities found during a simultaneous raid conducted in 45 offices of the BBMP on Thursday evening.

The big raid was conducted as part of a joint plan by Lokayukta Justice Patil and Upa Lokayukta Justice K N Phaneendra.

In the mass raid conducted for the first time, the teams found unaccounted money, rejection of khatas on flimsy grounds, files kept pending without being attended to, failure to register in the inward register to avoid taking time-bound action under the Sakala scheme, and showing 100 per cent progress under the scheme projecting that no files were pending, failing to mark attendance, not maintaining cash declaration register are among several irregularities found during the surprise checks and raid, sources said.

An official who was part of the raid team said, "We received a lot of complaints about harassment of the public in each Revenue and Town Planning office of the BBMP. Therefore, judicial officers were made part of the raid team as they are well-versed in the town and country planning provisions of the law, so that erring officials should not escape by giving evasive answers when they were questioned for pending works."

We don't just catch wrongdoers and punish them but ensure wrong should not recur, he added.

UPA LOKAYUKTA ON B'LURU RURAL TOUR

Upa Lokayukta Justice KN Phaneendra will tour Bengaluru Rural District for four days, from Saturday, to hear public grievances, receive complaints, conduct inquiries and dispose of pending complaints. On August 5, he will meet the public at 'Jilla Aadalita Bhavana' at Beerasandra village, Devanahalli taluk. In the evening, he will attend a legal literacy programme on the Karnataka Lokayukta Act, with departments of the government. On August 6, he will interact with judicial officers on the 'Role of Lokayukta Institution and Legal Services Authority in Public Administration' and visit taluk offices. On August 7 and 8, he will chair a meeting with deputy commissioners and district-level officers of the rural district.

BBMP revenue inspector caught collecting bribe

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Lokayukta police on Friday laid a trap and arrested Revenue Inspector of BBMP Mahadevapura Zone, Nataraj, and his accomplice Pavan (not a BBMP employee) for allegedly accepting a Rs 5 lakh bribe. This was the first instalment of Rs 7.9 lakh Nataraj had demanded to issue khatas to all the flats at an apartment in Kodigehalli, said an official release.

Brindavan Apartments, developed by Mukunda Developers, has 79 flats. Nataraj wanted Rs 10,000 per flat.

"Rs 5 lakh (60 per cent) was taken as advance today and the remaining Rs 2.9 lakh was to be collected after issuing khatas," the release said.

Manjunath, a resident of Manjunath Nagar, filed a complaint with the Lokayukta who laid the trap inside the BBMP office. "Pavan was collecting the money to hand it over to Nataraj when both were secured," it said

Later, the Lokayukta police raided Nataraj's house at Alavalli Girinagar. They found four high-end cars, 900 gm of gold items, 7 kg of silver items, and Rs 80,000 cash, another release said. A document for a 40×60 ft site, which was in his wife's name, was also recovered.

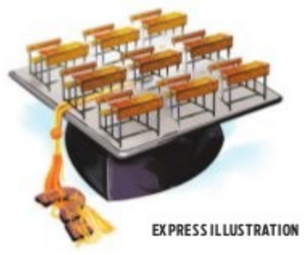
KEA says 9k seats will be added back, wants documents on time

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Examination Authority (KEA) on Friday announced that 9,000 seats that had been dropped from the Karnataka Common Entrance Test (KCET) seat matrix will be added back.

Following a meeting with higher education officials and the Karnataka Unaided Private Engineering Colleges Association (KUPECA), KEA Executive Director S Ramya said the 9,000 seats will be re-added for engineering courses.

Earlier, KEA had dropped as many as 9,000 KCET engineering seats from various colleges and universities. This was due to the institutions failing to supply various documents, including their No Objection Certificates (NOC). This had caused KEA to refuse admitting students to these universities under the KCET, and omitting as many as 9,000 seats from the institutes altogether. These included seats from RV University, MS Ramaiah Institute of Technology, and Dayananda Sagar College of Engineering.



EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

However, due to the confusion caused by the issue, as well as appeals from KUPECA, to postpone the counselling for KCET until the issue was resolved, a meeting was held with officials. According to Ramya, the seats are being re-added under certain conditions. She said the universities who had failed to supply their documents must do so within the stipulated time.

For the KCET candidates, this means that the seats will be available for allotment. Meanwhile, option entry for KCET candidates is set to begin on August 5, in the evening, and will go on until August 9. This will be option entry for all courses, including medical, dental and engineering courses.

AI Kengal to greet visitors at flower show

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

WITH former chief minister Kengal Hanumanthaiah and his contribution being the central theme for Lalbagh's 214th flower show, authorities of the botanical garden will be showcasing documentaries and rare pictures of the late CM on giant electronic screens, with the help of artificial intelligence.

The AI images of Hanumantaiah walking through Lalbagh amidst a 1954 setting has been created, since there were no photographs of him taking a regular stroll during that time, said officials.

Maya Films, an agency roped in to undertake the task, took three weeks to generate the AI images, which will be put up at the four entrance gates, at Glass House, and at the bonsai park.

"Hanumanthaiah's contribution to Karnataka is immense. Documentaries highlighting interviews with his family members, rare photographs including his Shivapura Satyagraha, his efforts to nationalise Kolar Gold Fields mining as Bharat Gold Mines Limited, his role in the unification of Karnataka and other episodes, will also be displayed on the screens. During short intervals, the AI-generated images will show his personality," said Dr M Jagadeesha, joint director, Horticulture Department, Lalbagh.

Maya Chandra, founder director of Maya Films, opined that while the immense contributions and vision of Hanumanthiah is well-known and documented through photographs, it is important and relevant to note that he also loved Lalbagh and used to walk here to enjoy its ambience.

"Such a photograph is not available nor has been documented, and this is where AI can bring to life our imagination of such visuals in the most realistic manner. It took three weeks for us to create such a work, which will give a highly-evolved sensory experience of history," said Maya.

SOCIAL PROGRESS

Industry must fund education sector: CM

ENS @ Bengaluru

PREPARATIONS are afoot to increase the Corporate Social Responsibility contribution to the education sector in the state. On Friday, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, School Education and Literacy Minister Madhu Bangarappa, and Large and Medium Industries Minister MB Patil met with industry leaders as part of the Karnataka CSR Conclave on Education, organised by the Sustainable Development Goals Coordination Committee (SDGCC). As part of this, Siddaramaiah called on industry partners to help in funding the education sector to ensure social progress.

Meanwhile, Shivakumar announced that the government is thinking of introducing a new programme to ensure that students from rural areas are able to compete at the global level. As part of this, he said there will be a school for every two panchayats, to ensure that all students are able to avail education. "The space required for this will be provided by the government. We will get leading educational institutions to take charge of these schools in collaboration with the government," he said.

He promised this would be done within the next three years, without money being spent from the government coffers, with all spending being taken up through CSR initiatives. "The responsibility of corporate organisations is important in this matter and we are ready to provide all necessary cooperation," he said.

'Congress will do well in BBMP polls'

THE High Court has given 12 weeks to complete the delimitation exercise. Once it is done, elections will be held. When the BJP government conducted the delimitation exercise under the chairmanship of S Raghu, CV Raman MLA, Congress leaders termed it "unscientific" and alleged that it had been done to favour the saffron party.

Reddy expressed confidence that Congress will get a clear mandate in BBMP elections this time. The Congress high command has set a target to win 20 seats in the coming Lok Sabha elections in the state, he said.

"A request has been made to announce candidates as soon as possible. A request has also been made for appointment of presidents of boards and corporations, working, district and block presidents. This exercise will bolster the Congress' chances ahead of elections," Reddy said. On the law and order situation in the state, Reddy said the state witnessed the highest number of cases of communal violence during the BJP rule.

Referring to former home minister Araga Jnanendra's remarks against AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge, he alleged that the BJP is working towards dividing society in the name of caste and religion.

SERVE PEOPLE HONESTLY, REVENUE MINISTER TELLS TAX ADVISERS

BENGALURU: Karnataka Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda asked tax advisers to serve the people and the government honestly. "Taxation is necessary for any government to function. It is not possible to give good governance to people without taxation. However, many tax advisers are doing tax evasion, claiming to save tax for people," Gowda told delegates at the National Tax Practitioner's Conference, organised by Karnataka State Tax Practitioners Association (KSTPA) and the All India Federation of Tax Practitioners on Saturday. KSTPA chairman S Nanjunda Prasad said the association, with a membership of over 2,000, provided ample support to the tax-paying public. ENS

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

05TH August : Way out in the solar system there's an ongoing relationship between Saturn, the ruler of traditional authority, and Uranus, the symbol of sudden surprises and radical revolutions. Those two are like chalk and cheese, but when they are closely linked, as they are at the moment, anything is possible - and I mean it!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There seems to be little ground between saintly charitable work and unpleasant back-biting, although obviously you have a choice as to which direction you steer yourself in. Whichever you choose, your attention is likely to shift to issues affecting your long-term emotional security.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The Moon now indicates that your mood will change for the better. You will become more confident, if a little emotional. You should have sufficient faith in yourself to show your true feelings instead of keeping them concealed. It's all a matter of not worrying what other people think!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
As the hours pass, you may begin to feel that you need more privacy. You may be entrusted with a secret and could even consider cancelling a social outing. What now seems certain is that you are set on a new course in all relationships, both casual and intimate.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
If you're travelling today, you should be prepared for adventure, and also to end up somewhere quite different from where you intended! In all discussions, it seems to be personal opinion rather than truth which will hold the day. But then, that's just what you're used to!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You may feel free to be a little more selfish today than of late. You have given enough to other people, and now it is time to look after yourself once again. Watch out for spiralling financial costs, and take the necessary action. Don't let anyone take you for a ride.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Today's colourful planetary picture awakens a crusading spirit which has already been glimpsed and could be even stronger next week. You may be as enthusiastic as you like, but never expect others to agree with you. Perhaps you should try to respect friends' opinions a little more.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
If you're working today, or otherwise preoccupied with routine chores, especially charitable acts, you may not know where to stop. The last thing you should do is to leave yourself worn out and flat on your back! Pace yourself properly, and relax when you need to.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
All the most important planetary aspects are aligned in social areas of your chart. The net result should be that you'll be meeting new faces, letting your hair down and enjoying yourself as never before. Oh, and don't let routine commitments hold you back.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
There seems to be a conflict of interest between your or a partner's professional duties on the one hand, and family commitments on the other. Right now, private life may have to take precedence over professional. People to whom you have made promises need to come first.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Everything in your solar chart shouts about a new restlessness. This is partly to do with a desire to travel and encounter new ideas and people, but also with a feeling that life should be more enjoyable. After all, you have put in your share of hard work.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Today's planetary picture denotes the possibility of large transfers of cash. It's unclear, however, whether this will be put to good use, or whether you'll be tipping your savings into a financial black hole! Neither is it certain whether it will all happen in your dreams!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
It's time to break the habits of a lifetime. Forget that you're supposed to be shy and sensitive. This is a day to do, say and feel whatever you want, regardless of social pressures or partners' prejudices. For once, you can be the iron fist in the velvet glove! One word of wisdom, though - be kind to those people who genuinely need your help.

FLYER FROM THAILAND NABBED WITH 2 RACCOON DOGS AT KIA

One dies, second one sent back to Thailand; Chennai resident booked, fined Rs 80,000

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

A Chennai resident, who attempted to smuggle two Common Raccoon Dogs, a wild animal, from Thailand by concealing it in the check-in baggage of his flight was caught redhanded at the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) recently, said Customs sources. Unfortunately, one of the raccoon dogs died at the airport while the other was sent back to Thailand.

The incident happened on July 28 around midnight just after the Thai Airways International flight TG 325 reached KIA. The flyer (name withheld) had been penalised Rs 80,000 and also booked under the Customs Act 1962. Common Raccoon Dog is a small, wild animal and is closely related to foxes. It belongs to the Canidae family and is unique in this species as it hibernates during winters and can climb trees.

"The 26-year-old flyer had kept the two Common Raccoon Dogs in separate baskets. He had placed them inside a suitcase he had checked-in at Thailand by placing them in the midst of noodles and biscuits. This helps in avoiding detection of it through the scanner," a source told TNIE.

The Bengaluru Airport Customs office got a tip-off about the smuggling of the wild animals by the flight. "We narrowed down on him based on data base profiling and his behaviour. When his suitcase was opened, we found both the animals alive inside the baskets.

One of the two Common Raccoon Dogs seized at KIA | EXPRESS

Unfortunately, one of them died sometime after it was rescued possibly due to the 3.5-hr travel and was buried nearby. The other animal was deported to Thailand through Thai Airways with the assistance of the Wildlife department of the Thailand government," another source added.

The individual had no documents on him pertaining to their transporation and he was bringing them stealthily, he added. He also had one case booked against him in Chennai earlier for smuggling some other animal.

There was some confusion initially when the animals were caught as they were misunderstood to be Civet Cats. "Our Animal Quarantine team in Bengaluru as well as the Wild Life Crime Control Bureau in Chennai who were sent videos and pictures identified themas Raccoon Dogs only," an official said. The flyer has been booked under sections 112 and 117 (which deal with improper importation of prohibited goods) of the Indian Customs Act.

Docs: Breastfeeding helps mothers fight postpartum blues

NAMRATA SINDWANI @Bengaluru

POST delivery, a new mother suffers from multiple issues, including those of mental health. Doctors say breastfeeding reduces chances of postpartum blues as it promotes a sense of emotional closeness with the baby, as the hormone oxytocin is released during the process.

Dr Ravneet Joshi, lactation specialist (International Board Certified Lactation Consultant) at Manipal Hospital said, "Mothers end up going through a turmoil of emotions pre and post pregnancy, and breastfeeding actually helps reduce anxiety. Women's sense of closeness increases while feeding the baby, and oxytocin released calms her down and creates a positive state of mind." Every year from August 1 to 7, Breastfeeding Awareness Week is celebrated to create awareness and help reduce the stigma associated with it. In alignment with this year's theme, "Let's make breastfeeding and work, work!" doctors said providing working women separate spaces for breastfeeding will give them a sense of confidence and help focus on career. The maternity leave period allows women to spend sufficient time with the baby, however, the mother suffers from a sense of detachment while returning to work, Dr Joshi explained. Hence, if they are able to access designated breastfeeding spaces to either feed or express milk during work hours, it will give them a sense of satisfaction, she said.

Dr Usha BK, neonatologist and assistant professor at Atal Bihari Vajpayee Medical College and Research Institute said, "Women feel embarrassed to breastfeed in public. In scenarios where either due to social stigma or lack of privacy women are unable to breastfeed, they should be able to access designated spaces to ensure the baby is fed every 2-3 hours."

PLEA DISMISSED

HC upholds order on BH registration for pvt sector staff

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court dismissed an appeal filed by the state transport department against a single-judge order, directing the transport commissioner to register vehicles of private company employees under the Bharath Series (BH Series).

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice MGS Kamal passed the order.

The Union Ministry of Road Transport and Highways on August 26, 2021 introduced a new registration mark for new motor vehicles called BH series.

It was made available to defence personnel, employees of central/state government and private sector companies/organisations, which are having their offices in four or more states/union territories.

The state transport commissioner on December 20, 2021 issued a communication to register new non-transport vehicles of persons, excluding private sector employees, under BH Series registration.

This was challenged by private persons before a single judge on December 16, 2022, who quashed the communication and directed the commissioner to register the motor vehicles of the petitioners. The state challenged this by filing appeals before the division bench.

Four Whitefield CEN policemen suspended in Kerala extortion case

ENS @Bengaluru

THE four policemen attached to the Whitefield CEN police station were suspended by City Police Commissioner B Dayananda on Thursday. After they were detained by the Kerala police in an extortion case, a senior police officer conducted an inquiry, which proved their wrongdoings.

The suspended are Inspector Shivaprakash, Head Constables Vijay Kumar and Shivani and Constable Sandesh. The four were detained by the Kalamassery police of the Kochi City Commissionerate on Wednesday. The Kalamassery police had registered an extortion case against the four. An advocate representing an accused in a cyber fraud case had filed the complaint against the four policemen for demanding Rs 3 lakh. The Whitefield CEN police had registered a case (crime number 747/2023) in June following a complaint from Chandaka Srikanth, a techie. The complainant had lost Rs 26 lakh in a job fraud case. During the investigation, it was found that Rs 10,000 was transferred to the account of one Issac from Madikeri. Issac gave the police the names of three more suspects. The police interrogated the three and got to know about another person, Naushad from Malappuram in Kerala.

The four policemen went to Kerala on July 31 in search of Naushad, and picked him up the next day at Vengara. Naushad revealed the names of two more accused Nikhil and Akhil from Ernakulam. The CEN police informed the jurisdictional Palluruthy police that they were picking up Naushad, Nikhil and Akhil. On Wednesday, the Kalamassery police called the four Whitefield CEN police to appear for questioning following an extortion complaint against them. Akhil's advocate had filed the complaint.

Govt mulls probe into misuse of BPL cards

Families owning white-board cars not considered BPL, says Muniyappa; K'taka in talks with AP, TS to procure rice

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

MINISTER for Food and Civil Supplies KH Muniyappa has said that the State Government is contemplating ordering a comprehensive probe into the misuse of Below Poverty Line (BPL) cards.

Addressing the media here on Friday, Muniyappa said that the Anna Bhagya guarantee scheme was rolled out on July 10 and it was promised to give Rs 170 to each beneficiary due to non-availability of rice. He said Rs 566 crore has been transferred to one crore families under the Anna Bhagya scheme in a record time of 25 days.

"Within 25 days, the government has deposited Rs 566 crore to the bank account of 1 crore beneficiary families, which benefits 3.50 crore people. In the remaining 28 lakh families, 5,32,349 families have not received ration through PDS in the last three months, families with less than three members under the Antyodaya scheme are 3,40,425, and there are 19,27,226 families which don't have a bank account or their accounts are not linked with Aadhaar number," Muniyappa said.

Rs 566 crore has been transferred to 1 crore families under Anna Bhagya

On instances of misuse of BPL cards, the minister said there are several parameters to avail the benefits and it is found that many families who don't require BPL cards are still availing the benefits.

"For instance, a family which has a personal car is not eligible to be considered below the poverty line, but if it owns a yellow-board car, it falls under the category. We are bringing in several changes to streamline the process like the addition of names of newborns and the deletion of names of those who have passed away. Once it is completed, we are contemplating ordering a comprehensive probe into misuse of BPL cards," he said.

Further, he said that 2,95,986 applications to get new cards were pending and it has been instructed to issue the cards to eligible families within a month.

Further, Muniyappa said Karnataka was in talks with Andhra Pradesh and Telangana governments to procure the required rice to provide under Anna Bhagya. "We have conveyed to them that we are ready to buy rice if they don't charge more than Rs 34. We are expecting their response within a week or two, and we intend to provide rice from next month," he said.

Meanwhile, Muniyappa said also he has appealed to Union Minister Piyush Goyal to increase the minimum support price for ragi to Rs 5,000 and jowar to Rs 4,500 and the latter has responded positively.

SC order a big win for democracy: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, Deputy CM DK Shivakumar and other leaders of the state Congress have welcomed the Supreme Court order staying the conviction of Congress leader Rahul Gandhi in the defamation case which had led to his disqualification from parliamentary membership.

Congress workers gathered in front of the party office and distributed sweets.

Siddaramaiah stated that it was a big win for democracy and the common man of India. "It is a defeat to those who conspired to keep him out of the Parliament. Satyameva Jayathe!!" he tweeted. Deputy CM Shivakumar said the apex court's order is not just a moral victory, but also a legal and political one, with a strong message to the ruling dispensation that attempted to quash his spirit. "The politics of vendetta and manipulation has been dissected by the highest form of the judiciary, upkeeping the democratic ideals laid down by the Constitution of our country," he stated.

Further, Shivakumar demanded that Rahul's Parliament membership be restored within 24 hours, the same way he was disqualified hours after the court convicted him. When reporters asked whether this will be a poll issue in the next Lok Sabha elections, he said people have already understood what's happening to democracy in the country. "The entire world is observing the developments here (in India)," he said.

Minister for RDPR and Science & Technology Priyank Kharge said the interim relief has increased their faith in the judiciary. Terming the SC order a victory for Mahatma Gandhi's principles, Congress MLC BK Hariprasad said vendetta politics was behind sentencing Rahul to two years' imprisonment and disqualification as MP.

BJP did not provide rice, lost polls: Priyank

KALABURAGI: RDPR Minister Priyank Kharge on Friday said that voters of Karnataka defeated the BJP in the recent Assembly elections because the previous government failed to give sufficient quantity of rice to the poor, who cursed the saffron party leading to its defeat. He also criticised the BJP for not appointing a Leader of the Opposition in the Assembly nearly two months after elections and even after the culmination of the Budget session. He said BJP has become politically bankrupt. "In the run-up to the elections, BJP leaders had criticised Congress saying it was not possible to implement the guarantees. Now, the same leaders are asking us when we will implement them," he quipped. ENS

KHANDRE IN MIND, KHARGE ON LIPS: ARAGA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Shivamogga

FORMER home minister and Thirthahalli MLA Araga Jnanendra clarified on Friday that he never made any disrespectful statement against All-India Congress Committee (AICC) president Mallikarjun Kharge, and instead of Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre, he had said Kharge while addressing the gathering during a protest in Thirthahalli on August 1.

He said that the Congress leaders are unnecessarily dragging Kharge's name into the controversy. Jnanendra alleged his words were distorted for doing politics. "I have already clarified the matter. If anybody is hurt by the remarks, especially Kharge, I regret it. Some of my friends in Congress had staged a protest against me. During the protest in Thirthahalli on August 1, I did not make any statement against Kharge. However, my statement was used for politics. Congress leaders are demanding action against me and have filed complaints. I will face it."

"I was talking about the forest department. Why would I drag Mallikarjun Kharge into my address?" Jnanendra said.

Jnanendra said that he respects Kharge because of his seniority, statesmanship, and behaviour. "I won't stoop to such a level. I may have criticised him politically but not personally. During the protest, I did not disparage him. If I had mentioned Mallikarjun Kharge's name, I will accept any punishment."

Injustice done to SC/STs by Cong govt: Bommai

SCSP/TSP ROW

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

OPPOSITION BJP leaders on Friday warned the State Government of launching a statewide agitation if it failed to reconsider its decision of diverting Rs 11,144 crore from the Scheduled Caste Sub Plan (SCSP) and the Tribal Sub Plan (TSP) for implementing the guarantee schemes.

Speaking at the protest demonstration against allocating SCSP/TSP funds for guarantee schemes, former CM Basavaaj Bommai said the Congress that came to power by giving many assurances to people is playing with the lives of Dalits. CM Siddaramaiah and Deputy CM DK Shivakumar visited Dalit colonies ahead of the Assembly polls to distribute guarantee cards and they should have informed them that the government will use SCSP/TSP funds for guarantees, the former CM said.

Now, by diverting the grants, the government is doing an injustice to SC/STs, he said and added that the government that had claimed that it would provide Rs 34,000 only allocated Rs 23,000 for SCSP/TSP.

"It has allocated Rs 700 crore for Shakti scheme. But how will the government identify SC/ST travellers who were benefited from the scheme? The government allocated Rs 5,500 crore for Gruha Lakshmi... but how will you identify the beneficiaries from those communities?" Bommai said.

He questioned the State Government's claims that Rs 11, 144 allocated for guarantees will be used only for people from those communities. Bommai said SCSP/TSP funds must only be used for the welfare of people from those communities and the government can mobilise resources for guarantees from other sources.

Meanwhile, the former chief minister also slammed Social Welfare Minister HC Mahadevappa for accepting such a proposal to divert funds.

The State Government had justified allocating Rs 11,144 crore in the SCSP/TSP grants to guarantee schemes and claimed that it will be mandatorily used for families belonging to SC/ST communities.

Udupi voyeurism: BJP leaders want SIT probe

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BJP legislators from the coastal Karnataka districts appealed to Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot to direct the State Government to order a probe by a Special Investigation Team (SIT) into the Udupi washroom mobile video case.

BJP legislators, including Kota Srinivas Poojari, Vedavyas Kamat, Bharat Shetty, and others submitted a memorandum to the Governor on Friday. In the memorandum, the MLAs claimed that there is a larger conspiracy in the entire incident. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah had earlier rejected the BJP demand for SIT probe as police have already booked cases against the girls involved in the case.

Speaking to reporters after submitting the memorandum to the Governor, BJP leader Poojari said the Home Minister has taken the case lightly and a DySP rank officer will not be able to probe the case impartially if there is pressure from the government. The BJP leader said the Governor has assured them of giving appropriate directives to the government.

VHP leaders booked for provocative speech

UDUPI: The Udupi Town police have booked a suo motu case against VHP state secretary Sharan Pumpwell and VHP Udupi district secretary Dinesh Mendon on charges of delivering provocative speech during a protest in Udupi on Thursday. The protest was held to condemn the Udupi voyeurism incident. Pumpwell has been accused of calling upon "women who had gathered at the protest to take up arms if they are intimidated". Mendon too has been accused of delivering provocative speech. The duo has booked under Sections 505 (1) (B&C), 506 read with 34 of IPC. Police sources said that the organisers, while seeking permission, had told the police that they would not make any speech that would hurt the sentiments of people. Meanwhile, Udupi district BJP mahila morcha president Veena Shetty has been booked by Udupi Town police on July 28 under Sections 153 (A), 505 (2) of IPC for alleged provocative speech she made at a BJP protest in front of SP's office. She had allegedly said that no educational institution should admit Muslim girls. Meanwhile, the student who was allegedly videographed inside the washroom appeared before a Udupi court on Thursday and gave her statement under Section 164 of CrPC. ENS

Congress an extortionist party: Kumaraswamy

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

CLOSE on the heels of the Congress high command meeting state party leaders, including Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and his cabinet colleagues, and warning them that there will be 'zero tolerance' for corruption, JDS senior leader HD Kumaraswamy on Friday alleged that Congress is an "extortionist' party. "Ever since Independence, that party has been into 'vasool' (extortion). Congress continued with the East India Company's collection. Will such people stop corruption," he asked.

Soon after coming back from his two-week Europe trip with his family, he alleged, "Leaders and ministers went to New Delhi to show their corruption report card to the high command."

Siddaramaiah ridiculed Kumaraswamy, saying his is a hit-and-run case. "Has he released the pen drive on corruption charges? There is nothing, that is why he did not release it," he added.

Kumaraswamy said, "Rahul Gandhi in New Delhi told state leaders to ensure corruption-free governance. Is it possible?" He targeted Siddaramaiah's son Dr Yathindra and Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara for allegedly intervening in transfers of officers.

Replying, Parameshwara said, "Let him make any comments, but we are posting officers who fit the bill. I had worked as home minister when Kumaraswamy was CM of the alliance government. Can I reveal what are the instructions he used to give?" Kumaraswamy alleged that DyCM DK Shivakumar indulged in black magic to ensure Congress' win. "That's why he is not confident of the survival of the government," Kumaraswamy said, replying to DyCM's allegation that the former was hatching a plot in Singapore to topple the government.

Shivakumar said it is his willpower that helped the party win elections. On Kumaraswamy, he said, "He is like my older brother, let him speak as he has just arrived from abroad after taking rest." Kumaraswamy demanded a white paper on the state's finances, saying he doubted the CM's deficit budget.

Boards, corpns: 70% to partymen, rest legislators

BANSY KALAPPA
@ Bengaluru

THE Congress is going forward with appointments to boards and corporations, following discussions with the party leadership in New Delhi earlier this week. CM Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar are under pressure from party leaders and legislators to go ahead with appointments, and the issue figured during meetings Siddaramaiah had with the Congress leadership.

There are 30 prized boards and corporations, and about 60 which are not so sought after — Karnataka Housing Board, Karnataka Jungle Lodges and Resorts, Karnataka State Small Industries Development Corporation Ltd, Karnataka Soaps and Detergents, Karnataka Urban Infrastructure Development and Finance Corporation, Karnataka Urban Water Supply Drainage Board and others. Boards associated with the Industries and Commerce and Water Resources departments are sought after.

KPCC Working President Saleem Ahmed said the party has begun the process of making appointments to boards and corporations. Siddaramaiah, Shivakumar and AICC general secretary Randeep Surjewala will decide on the final list. "We will follow a 70:30 ratio — party men will get 70% of the positions while legislators will get 30%," he said.

Many MLAs are seeking these posts, while party workers and office-bearers are contending for posts of members. The appointments process is likely to take around a month.

Over 47% power generation from renewable energy sources

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE state is sourcing a large portion of its power requirement through renewable energy (RE) sources, reducing the dependence on thermal power. The state now has a stock of 3.05 lakh metric tonnes of coal, which will last around six days. The situation here is better than other states, but people should use power judiciously, energy department officials said.

As on August 3, RE generation was 4,126mw, which is 47.52% of the state's demand of 8,682mw. The state generates 2,455mw, of which thermal is 1,122mw and the remaining from hydro sources, according to the Karnataka Power Corporation Limited (KPCL).

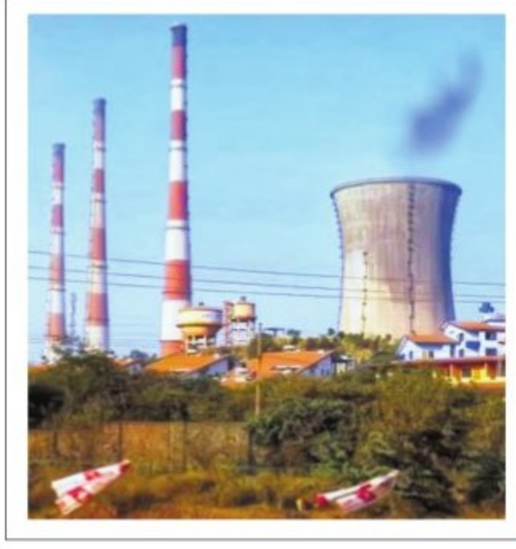
At present, six out of the total 13 units from all the three thermal power stations are generating power. Two of the eight units in Raichur Thermal Power Station (RTPS), two of the three units in Ballari (BTPS) and one unit in Yermarus Thermal Power Station (YTPS) have stopped generating power. Officials said the average daily coal consumption in all the three thermal power stations is 25,000 MT.

With heavy rainfall last week, hydropower generation has improved. The rain has also brought down the overall power demand to 200-210 million units per day from 260- 270 million units.

Despite production going up from other sources, the state still needs thermal power plants as they cannot be shut down completely. Thermal power is also needed as solar power can be generated only during the day, while wind is unpredictable, a KPCL official said.

"Since the demand for power is less and RE is good, thermal generation has been reduced. The state's peak morning demand is 11,500 mw, while at night it is 7,000mw. The average RE generation from solar, wind and hydro is 4,126mw. Also, power supply from CGS (central generating stations) is 2,078mw daily, which has to be utilised," the official said.

KPCL Managing Director Pankaj Kuamr Pandey told The New Indian Express that the state has increased its coal stock and it can last seven days, from the earlier five days. The top department officials recently met the coal secretary, who was requested to increase the number of coal rakes to the state. In the next one month, the state's coal buffer stock will increase to last more than 15 days, Pandey added.



2 OUT OF 3 UNITS SHUT IN BTPS

Two out of three power generation units at the Ballari Thermal Power Station (BTPS) have stopped production as the power station is not receiving coal because of heavy rain in Telangana and some parts of Odisha. With the existing stock of coal, the plant can run for only another eight days. BTPS has two 500mw and one 700mw unit. But the plant is generating 270mw per day because of shortage of coal and also because the demand is low for thermal power during the rainy season. Karnataka Power Corporation Limited has stated that with the present stock of 3 lakh MT coal, the plant can run for six days if all the three units are operational. A senior BTPS official said, "Of the three units, one is under annual maintenance and the other is shut. Heavy rain has impacted extraction of coal. Our plant is producing 270-280mw of power every day. We have informed higher-ups." (Inputs: Kiran Balannanavar @ Ballari)

C'DURGA WATER CONTAMINATION: TWO MORE DIE, TOLL RISES TO 5

Two engineers suspended; Steps taken to prevent spread of diarrhoea

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chitradurga

TWO more people died due to water contamination at Kavadigarahatti on the outskirts of Chitradurga, taking the death toll to five.

The deceased have been identified as Rudrappa (75) and Parvathamma (75).

Deputy Commissioner Divyaprabhu GRJ on Friday said three of the eight stool samples tested showed the presence of vibrio cholerae bacteria and doctors are treating the patients for this.

Rudrappa, who was taken ill on Monday with symptoms of vomiting and diarrhea, died on Thursday night.

Parvathamma, whose family members are under treatment at the district hospital, died at home on Friday morning after her condition worsened. She was alone at home.

With her death, those who were relying on home remedies, have started visiting the temporary hospital set up at the anganwadi centre at Kavadigarahatti.

The number of inpatients at the district hospital and Basaveshwara Medical College Hospital has increased to 165. With the authorities taking steps to tackle diarrhea, the number of cases has come down in the area.

Those needing special care are being sent to the district hospital. Patients needing advanced treatment are being referred to Basaveshwara Medical College Hospital, according to sources.

Meanwhile, Assistant executive engineer Manjunath Giraddi and junior engineer Kiran have been suspended pending inquiry for water contamination in parts of the city.

Manjunath has been transferred to Nippani City Municipal Council and Kiran to Arasikere CMC.

CHOLERA-LIKE SYMPTOMS IN STOOL SAMPLES

Three of eight stool samples of patients have reported the presence of vibrio cholerae bacteria, Chitradurga Deputy Commissioner Divyaprabhu GRJ said on Friday. The toll in the water contamination case in Kavadigarahatti has gone up five. Doctors are treating the patients accordingly, and a specialist team of doctors from Bengaluru is reaching Chitradurga to monitor patients at the district hospital and Basaveshwara Hospital, she said. A team of experts from the state surveillance team is also arriving to examine the status of water pipes, valves and water samples so that the exact cause of the outbreak can be identified. Meanwhile, Superintendent of Police Parashuram K said the forensics report said there is no presence of poison in the water or stool samples collected from the patients. Compensation of Rs 10lakh will be handed over to each of the families of the deceased, the DC said. While Rs 5 lakh will come from the CM's Relief Fund, the remaining Rs 5lakh will be given by the Chitradurga City Municipal Council.

Suo motu proceedings initiated by Lokayukta

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Lokayukta initiated suo motu proceedings over the death of two persons and 41 who fell ill due to diarrhoea and vomiting after drinking contaminated water at Kavadigarahatti. They have sought response from the state authorities, holding them responsible for failing to provide potable drinking water.

Initiating the proceedings based on the report submitted by the Superintendent of Police of Lokayukta at Chitradurga stating that the incident that occurred on August 1 was due to negligence on the part of the officials, Lokayukta Justice BS Patil passed the order on Friday to register the proceedings and directed the authorities concerned to take immediate steps to ensure pure and safe drinking water.

Referring to the report submitted by the Superintendent of Police, the Lokayukta said, "Prima facie, it indicates that there was a failure on the part of authorities concerned in providing pure and safe drinking water to the residents of the area... It is not only a violation of fundamental right guaranteed under Article 21 of the constitution, but also amounts to maladministration within the meaning of Section 2(10) of the Karnataka Lokayukta Act".

THE accused, even after knowing that policemen would be reaching there soon, remained at the spot, claiming that they are not scared of anybody. A police team, which arrived there, took the five men into custody. The team also seized the car and recovered some liquor bottles from it.

In his complaint, Shetty stated that his father, a retired employee of a private company, and his sister were standing on the porch when the gang members started urinating in front of their house.

They opened the gates and barged in. They went up and started dragging Shetty's father down. After hearing the commotion, Shetty rushed to his father's rescue, a police officer said.

Even at the police station, the accused threatened the complainant with dire consequences. The complainant's parents and sister did not go to the police station fearing the accused. After the incident, the family now wants to return to Mangaluru.

"All the accused have been arrested. The victims have sustained minor injuries," the officer said.

When contacted, Shetty refused to comment. A case of causing hurt (IPC 323), outraging the modesty of a woman (IPC 354) along with other Sections of IPC, has been registered against the accused.

DINESH GUNDU RAO, AAP CLASH OVER MOHALLA CLINICS

ANUP VERMA @ New Delhi

A war of words broke out between the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) and Karnataka Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao, when the latter criticised the AAP government's Mohalla Clinic after a visit with his Delhi counterpart on Friday. Rao initially praised the Mohalla Clinic model but barely an hour later, he tweeted that he came back feeling "disappointed" after his visit.

"Visited a Mohalla Clinic in Delhi with hardly any people there. Our Clinics in Karnataka have more facilities including a laboratory to do immediate tests for patients. I guess it is overhyped and I came back feeling disappointed," Rao tweeted.

Facing embarrassment, an AAP leader said the Karnataka minister wanted to see how the Delhi government was implementing its health policies, and observed that the Mohalla Clinic was functioning effectively. Mohalla Clinics have been operational for 6-7 years, and people have appreciated their services.

AAP claimed that Rao received a phone call, after which he said he had an important meeting and left. A while later, he tweeted his criticism of the Mohalla Clinic. However, only Rao can clarify why he changed his statement from praising Mohalla Clinics to criticising them, AAP said. In his tweet, Rao claimed that Namma Clinics in Karnataka have better infrastructure.

To verify this claim, AAP's Karnataka team visited a Namma Clinic in Dinesh Gundu Rao's constituency of Gandhi Nagar. They found the clinic and Primary Health Centre (PHC) were located adjacent to each other. People mentioned that the PHC had been closed for a long time. "Namma Clinic, in reality, is just a name. It was initiated by the BJP government, and provides only primary treatment for illnesses like fever. Patients are referred to other hospitals.

AAP said that comparison between Namma Clinic and Delhi's Mohalla Clinic is unjust. Delhi's Mohalla Clinics are well-equipped, and treatment is free. Even tests are conducted free, they have world-class facilities and the clinics are managed by MBBS doctors.

As per AAP, it's unfortunate that Rao visited Delhi's Mohalla Clinic and observed its world-class facilities, and subsequently tweeted that Namma Clinics are better than Mohalla Clinics.

TDP supremo blames SP, Pedireddy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayawada

HIGH tension prevailed in Angallu and Punganur in Chittoor district as YSRC and TDP followers clashed during the visit of TDP supremo and Opposition leader N Chandrababu Naidu, who was on a field visit to irrigation projects. Taking strong exception to YSRC obstructing his visit and attacking TDP cadres, Naidu blamed minister Peddireddy Ramachandra Reddy and the district SP.

Naidu said leaders should live respectfully in a democracy "I can understand your anger, but the days of this government are numbered," he said.

He said he would take the responsibility of putting an end to the dictatorship and asked people to move forward with confidence. "Many of our party activists sustained injuries in the attack, let us take an oath to make YSRC sit at home permanently," he said.

SC STAY OPENS DOOR TO REINSTATE RAHUL AS LOK SABHA MEMBER

With the Supreme Court on Friday staying the conviction of Rahul Gandhi for two years in the Modi surname slur case, his political stock hit the stratosphere, giving his party bragging rights for claiming he would be the Congress' PM face in 2024. The stay primarily opened the door for reviving his Lok Sabha membership until the case is finally disposed of, as it put his disqualification in abeyance. It restored his right to continue in public life and represent the Wayanad electorate in Parliament. A trial court in Gujarat sentenced him to jail for two years on March 23—the maximum sentence for defamation. It resulted in Rahul's disqualification from the Lower House under the Representation of the People's Act (RPA). The SC bench pointed out, "Had the sentence been a day lesser, provisions would not have been attracted, particularly when an offence is non-cognisable, bailable and compoundable." The trial court ought to have given some reasons to justify imposing the maximum sentence but didn't, the SC said, adding neither the appellate court nor the high court considered it while rejecting appeals for staying the conviction. The only reason the trial court gave was the SC's admonishment of Rahul for wrongly attributing to it his "chowkidar chor hai" remark against Prime Minister Narendra Modi in the Rafale case. Rahul had been hauled up for contempt in that case, but it was closed by the SC after he tendered an unconditional apology.

On the Modi slur, the SC observed that it was not in good taste, adding a person in public life is expected to exercise caution while making public speeches. Just the other day, the Gandhi scion had reiterated in his counter-affidavit in the SC that he would not apologise for the remark. He charged that using the RPA to arm-twist him into tendering an apology was a gross abuse of the judicial process.

Barely a day after Rahul's conviction, the Lok Sabha secretariat announced his disqualification under the RPA. It must show equal urgency now in restoring his Lok Sabha membership based on the principle of natural justice. As the Congress pointed out, any delay would be contrary to the heart and soul of parliamentary democracy. Parliament's doors should be gracefully opened to him instead of how NCP MP Mohammad Faizal's revocation of disqualification took over 10 weeks.

ENCOURAGE LOCAL MAKES OF ELECTRONIC GOODS

The government's import restrictions on seven electronic products, including laptops, seem to be a resolute attempt to boost domestic manufacturing and reduce reliance on Chinese imports. The Directorate General of Foreign Trade's new diktat appears like a gentle nudge to companies to make in India and sell in India, as global tech giants like Apple, Dell, HP and Samsung, who produce these products elsewhere, now cannot do business without an import licence. Incidentally, Apple recently chose Vietnam to make laptops in, passing over India, despite its $2-bn Production-Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme tailored for hardware companies. Even though PLI 2.0 has higher incentives than PLI 1.0, it saw few takers, forcing the government to extend the deadline to apply for the scheme till August 30.

Industry associations claim the restrictions were imposed without prior consultations. They fear delays of new launches, product shortages and, importantly, raised prices ahead of the forthcoming festive season. At $8.8 bn worth of imports in FY23, the seven shortlisted products account for about 1.5% of India's total annual imports. Data from the Ministry of Commerce and Industry shows that more than half, or $5.1 bn worth of imports, were sourced from China alone. On the other hand, domestic production remains negligible, and the government senses an opportunity to encourage local firms and, in the process, achieve the targeted $300 bn annual electronics production by 2026.

That said, the swashbuckling move of import restrictions is a departure from India's often-used duty hikes to discourage imports and encourage domestic production. It's true that such decisions successfully altered the production landscape of mobile phones and TV sets. For instance, the high tariffs on mobile phones catalysed outputs, with domestic production jumping from ₹18,000 crore in FY15 to ₹2,25,000 crore in FY20. India is now emerging as a net exporter of mobile phones, specifically the high-end iPhones, which might touch 50% of Apple's global iPhone production by 2027. Likewise, in 2020, the import restrictions on fully-built TV sets helped achieve 100% local assembling. But personal computers and laptops have complex components. Replicating the production success of TVs and smartphones may be possible in the long run, though not guaranteed. Efforts should be made to avoid disruptions as these products are critical parts of everyday life.

QUICK TAKE

REFORM ANCIENT LEGISLATION

Is it time to review the age-old Indian Evidence Act of 1872? The Supreme Court recently iterated a newspaper report is merely hearsay or secondary evidence under that Act. A newspaper isn't in the approved 'public documents' list under Section 78(2)—in the colonial days, the government printed all public documents. The independent Press today carries reports with evidence the law recognises. Authentic 'live' streaming or coverage is also primary evidence. Section 81 still presumes only newspapers "printed by the Queen's Printer" are "genuine". It's obsolete thinking. The law must reflect changes over time. The government's aware of several calls to reform the Act.

Since social sectors are mostly state subjects, the question is if state governments will accept the difficult political task of telling people they are no longer 'poor'

The National Food Security Act (NFSA) was passed in 2013, just about 10 years ago. Broadly, every Indian knows what the NFSA does. Priority households will receive 5 kg of foodgrains per person every month at subsidised prices. For a household under AAY (Antyodaya Anna Yojana), the entitlement will be 35 kg per family every month. The NFSA covers 75% of the rural population and 50% of the urban population. These percentages and figures are not even in the Schedules. They are in the main body of the statute and any deviation, or shortfall, will be a violation of law, as passed by Parliament, unless NFSA is amended.

Any subsidy has a cost. The money has to come from somewhere. In absolute terms, what does 75% of rural population and 50% of urban population amount to? Depends on the year. If we use old population figures, something like 800 million. (These are actual identified beneficiaries. The absolute number of those entitled is slightly higher.) Census 2021 has been delayed. If we use estimates of what the total population and its rural/urban distribution might be, we will have a figure of around 900 million. And this is cast in stone, unless the law is amended. It will be cast in stone even in 2047, unless the law is amended. Wasn't it a bad idea to freeze those numbers in the body of the statute in 2013, with a presumption that many people in India would be permanently poor? It certainly was. Doesn't require a great deal of foresight to see this.

Just as Census 2021 has been delayed, there has been no NSSO consumption survey after 2011–12. The way NFSA works is the following. 75% rural and 50% urban is fixed. Using the consumption survey for 2011–12, the former Planning Commission worked out rural/urban numbers for states. Given those numbers, it is up to states to identify target beneficiaries.

The difference between a census and a survey is important. A survey is based on a sample. A census represents complete enumeration. A population census isn't the only census that is around. There is the Economic Census (also delayed) and SECC (Socio Economic and Caste Census), the last from 2011–12. Since a survey is based on a sample, it doesn't tell us which individual or household is poor and deprived. To use perhaps a bad analogy, that's the difference between actual voting results and an opinion poll. Identification requires a census, and in this case, something like SECC, suitably updated. At best, a survey tells us about trends.

The United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) brings out a global multidimensional poverty index (MDPI). In July 2023, this report said that between 2005–06 and 2019–21, 415 million people moved out of poverty in India and the percentage of poor dropped from 55.1% to 16.4%. The components of MDPI are health, education and living standards.

Following this, Niti Aayog brought out (also in July) a progress report on multidimensional poverty. To quote from this, "The MPI estimates highlight a near-halving of India's national MPI value and decline in the proportion of population in multidimensional poverty from 24.85% to 14.96% between 2015–16 and 2019–21." Let's skip the details of MDPI methodology, since that's not relevant for now. Where do I get data for computing these numbers? To quote Niti, "Thus, the prerequisite for the construction of the MPI is that all the data required for it must come from the same single survey, as otherwise the creation of household deprivation profiles will not be possible. To create household deprivation profiles, it is presently neither possible nor feasible to collate data on a single household from several different surveys, i.e., health indicators from the different rounds of National Sample Surveys, education indicators from the National Achievement Surveys, etc. The global MPI is constructed using Demographic and Health Surveys (DHS) in countries where it is available. ... The DHS for India is the National Family Health Survey (NFHS), which is conducted by the International Institute for Population Sciences (IIPS) under the aegis of the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare (MoHFW), Government of India." In other words, the MDPI declines are attributable to NFHS-5. There can be problems with surveys and their designs. Historically, there have been inconsistencies between the Census and NFHS. Hence, one can quibble about the Niti assertion of a single survey. But that will largely be pedantic.

The more important point is, within the figure of 14.96% in 2019–21, the head count ratio (Niti figure) is 19.28% for rural India and 5.27% for urban India. Nonetheless, 75% of rural India and 50% of urban India will get subsidised food. To repeat, NFHS is a survey. We still need to figure out which individual/household is deprived (there is a household to individual matching issue too). That gets us back to SECC or its variants. SECC (both rural and urban) has exclusion and inclusion criteria. Other than updating SECC, surely, we need to take a relook at both the exclusion and inclusion criteria. For instance, ownership of a landline means exclusion from SECC rural. That may have been relevant in 2011–12. It is relevant today. Given the government's emphasis on housing, what does households without shelter (automatic inclusion under SECC rural) mean? SECC urban also talks of ownership of a landline as automatic exclusion. The bottom line is both simple and messy.

(1) Shouldn't we have a common definition and common set of uniform questions (Census versus NFHS versus SECC) to decide who is poor and deserving of subsidies?

(2) Shouldn't we accept that as India develops, and as individuals/households are empowered and become less deprived, they should graduate out of being poor, not merely as a number (as in UNDP and Niti reports), but also in terms of receiving subsidies? (This requires amendments to NFSA, among other things.)

(3) Without a Census, something like NFHS only goes a limited distance. It is good to project trends of success, or failure as the case may be, but that doesn't help at the level of the individual or household.

(4) Since social sectors are mostly state subjects, will state governments accept the difficult political task of telling people they are no longer "poor" and therefore, no longer entitled to subsidies?

While empowerment is always the objective of a good economic policy, success in that, and the attendant loss of entitlement, is not always an attribute of good political policy. Good economics can sometimes be bad politics.

THE PLEASURE AND PAIN OF LIVING WITH AI

PRATIK KANJILAL
Editor of The India Cable

SPEAKEASY

Doomsday stories about rogue artificial intelligences focus on the 'singularity', an inflexion point at which humans perceive an existential threat because the AI has surpassed their cognitive powers, and they fear the loss of control over themselves and their future. This usually happens in other-worldly situations—in The Terminator, the crisis is in the future, and in 2001: A Space Odyssey, it's in interplanetary space. Real-world disaster scenarios have AIs taking over nuclear facilities, tripping national power grids, and hijacking telecom systems and satellites using means that brush aside human controls. But who could have imagined that Hollywood writers, actors and people working in broadcast media would be the first to experience the singularity? It's very appropriate, though, since they are the very people who have brought AI dystopias to life for us.

The US film industry is in the midst of a historic strike led by the Writers Guild of America and the Screen Actors Guild-American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (SAG-AFTRA). Its effects are being seen in the biggest venues—the cast of Oppenheimer walked out of the London premiere—and in niche events like the San Diego Comic-Con, which Hollywood A-listers skipped this time. Some of the strikers are no doubt driven by Luddite futility. Movies and media have become hugely technology-dependent, and artists will be no more successful in holding off the newest wave than Canute was, even if it threatens their livelihoods. But they should be successful in negotiating better terms for how the industry appropriates their talent because right now, it's like the Wild West.

Performing artists are particularly vulnerable because apart from their cultural products, their voices, their bodies, and their very selves are easily appropriated by AIs. In March, an AI researcher used a machine to sing a verse in the manner and voice of Kanye West, and some critics said that it was better than the rapper himself, which must have been pretty crushing. Industry specialists hazard that within a couple of years, every popular singer will have several AI models trained in their work—a Taylor Swift studio version, stadium version, and stadium in the rain version (she does sing in the rain). Anyone could write a song and cut a track in any version of her voice. Without legal curbs on machine-made clones of human work, they would be free to exploit it commercially. Upon which, Ms Swift would have three choices: One, stop expecting revenue from streaming and the sale of albums and earn mainly from concerts like the Grateful Dead did. Two, spend the rest of her life suing people globally, which is a depressing choice. Or three, go on strike to seek terms under which she is properly compensated for third parties using her capital.

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

> Performing artists are particularly vulnerable because apart from their cultural products, their voices, their bodies, and their very selves are easily appropriated by AIs

The writers and artists on strike in America have chosen option three. While singers can lose control of their voices to AIs, writers can be almost totally removed from the picture, and actors can have their entire bodies taken over. These people have rebelled because they face an existential crisis due to studios and owners of production facilities not clarifying how they are to live with AI—or will they not survive at all?

While the Hollywood strike has all the eyeballs because it's Hollywood, Meta has quietly upended the AI industry by open-sourcing its AI Llama-2—you can install it on your laptop and take it offline. Open-sourcing is a smart step. Social media is buzzing with AI 'experts' trying to sell you an interface or some prompts—verbal instructions to get an AI to do what you want—because they know the gold rush won't last. Artificial general intelligence (a machine you can talk to) will become the default gateway to the internet. That would make it critical infrastructure, and governments would have to guarantee public access to it. AI will be democratised, as Meta anticipates, and will grow faster because of it.

Following the open-sourcing of Llama-2, Nick Clegg, former UK deputy prime minister and president for global affairs at Meta, has been talking up its advantages in India, which is Meta's biggest market. It is one way of allaying anxieties about AI. An AI can go rogue only via an unforeseen outcome—for instance, if programmers and trainers have not anticipated an unwanted activity. For instance, it is a good policy to tell chatbots to reply to queries only as an assistant and never as a system user. It prevents machines from playing boss. But unexpected issues can also lurk in the source code of the machine. If the code is open to inspection and manipulation by thousands of programmers and researchers everywhere, the issues are much likelier to be caught and patched than by a handful of bug-chasers employed by a corporation.

The most visible problem with AI chatbots is what the industry calls 'hallucinations'—like propagandists, machines make up facts to substantiate their thinking and even provide Borgesian references to books which do not exist. Open-sourcing is likely to contain such issues faster, leaving humans to deal with the internet's real problem, which mass access to AIs is bound to increase—fake news created by humans themselves. The problem is never technology, which is value-neutral. The problem is the rogues at the console, who use technology like Archimedes' lever to multiply their destructive power.

Democracy asleep

Has democracy been given a holiday in India? Our PM is clueless and does not have the intention to make a statement in Parliament, which he should have done much earlier on his own. Opposition parties have rightly prioritised sensitising the government to the developments in Manipur. Several important bills are getting passed without proper discussion. House adjourned as truce remains elusive on Manipur

Monsoon session looks like a washout as only six sittings left now

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

EVEN as only six sittings are left in the monsoon session of Parliament, both Houses failed to function as the Manipur row dominated the proceedings on Friday.

There were signs of a truce between the Opposition and treasury benches on Thursday in the Rajya Sabha after both the sides held a meeting to resolve the impasse.

It was, however, short-lived as the face-off continued on Friday. The government appears to be not serious about resolving the stalemate, said Opposition leaders. Though the government agreed to discuss Manipur unrest under Rule 167 in the Rajya Sabha, it offered that the debate be held on August 11, the last day of the monsoon session, according to the Opposition leaders.

Taking to social media, Congress leader Jairam Ramesh said, "Yesterday INDIA parties offered a middle path solution to the Modi government to enable the smooth functioning of the Rajya Sabha. We said let us have a mutually negotiated motion on Manipur under Rule 167 and start a discussion on it."

"The Modi government appeared to agree but indicated that the earliest that the discussion could take place was only on Friday, August 11. This shows the government is not serious," he further said.

As the Opposition and treasury benches locked horns in RS, a notice under Rule 176 was moved by the ruling benches to discuss crimes against women in Rajasthan, following the alleged gang rape and murder of a 14-year-old.

While members from the treasury benches raised slogans, Leader of Opposition Mallikarjun Kharge said Parliament is not the right forum to raise the issue and it should be raised in the Rajasthan assembly.

Both the Houses adjourned till noon amid protests. As chaos persisted after resumption at noon, the Rajya Sabha was adjourned for the day.

Amid sloganeering, the LS passed two bills — the Indian Institutes of Management (Amendment) Bill, 2023, and the Inter-Services Organisations (Command, Control and Discipline) Bill, 2023.

NEW BILLS TABLED

Inter-services Organisations Bill
The Bill approved by the Lok Sabha seeks to empower the commander-in-chief and the officer-in-command of inter-services organisations with disciplinary and administrative powers over personnel from other forces serving in such establishments.

Indian Institutes of Management (Amendment) Bill, 2023
The Bill passed by LS entrusts the management accountability of IIMs with the President, who will have powers to audit their functioning, remove directors and nominate members to selection committee.

Anusandhan National Research Foundation Bill-2023
This Bill introduced by Union Science and Technology Minister Jitendra Singh seeks to set up a `50,000-crore fund to "seed, grow and promote" R&D across institutes.

CENTRE PLANS NATIONAL MENSTRUAL HYGIENE POLICY

The Central government is planning a National Menstrual Hygiene Policy, Minister of State for Health and Family Welfare, Dr Bharati Pravin Pawar, informed Lok Sabha on Friday. "The ministry has taken up the task to formulate a National Menstrual Hygiene Policy," Pawar said in a written reply, adding that a national consultation with various stakeholders has been held and in-person inputs have been collated.

24.30 CR AYUSHMAN CARDS CREATED UNDER AB-PMJAY

A total of 24.30 crore Ayushman cards have been created under the Ayushman Bharat Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (AB-PMJAY), the Centre's flagship programme, out of which 45.09 lakh cards have been created in Tamil Nadu till July 30, Union health minister Mansukh Mandaviya informed Lok Sabha on Friday. Till July 30, 5.43 crore hospital admissions worth `66,763 crore have been authorised under the scheme, the minister said.

CUT MINIMUM AGE TO CONTEST LS, ASSEMBLY POLLS: PANEL

The parliamentary standing committee on law and personnel on Friday said the minimum age to contest Lok Sabha and assembly elections should be reduced from the current 25 years to 18. This would give the youth equal opportunities to engage in democracy, it said. According to the present legal framework, a person should be at least 25 years old to contest both these elections. The minimum age to become a member of Rajya Sabha and state legislative council is 30 years. The minimum age for an individual to cast his or her vote is 18 years currently.

GOVT LAUNCHES SPECIAL DRIVE TO BUST UNSAFE HEALTH SUPPLEMENTS

Union health minister Mansukh Mandaviya told Lok Sabha on Friday said that Food Safety and Standards Authority of India has carried out a special drive against health supplements sold in market that were not complying with the rules. During the drive, 1,326 samples were taken from across the country, of which 1,229 were sent for testing. About 202 samples were found to be non-compliant with the respective food product standards and action has been taken, Mandaviya said.

PANEL CALLS FOR 2-YEAR JAIL FOR FILING FALSE ELECTION AFFIDAVIT

The punishment for filing false election affidavit should be enhanced to a maximum of two years, but the penalty should only be applied in exceptional cases and not for minor errors or unintentional mistakes, said the standing committee on law and personnel headed by BJP MP Sushil Kumar Modi, on Friday. "The current punishment of six months under Section 125A, is insufficient and should be increased. The severity of punishment should be based on the severity of the offence committed," it said.

NO DATA ON DEATH OF MEDICAL PROFESSIONALS ON DUTY, SAYS GOVT

The Centre does not maintain the details of the number of fatalities of medical professionals, including doctors on duty, due to attacks by violent patients, Union health minister Mansukh Mandaviya told Lok Sabha on Friday. He said that under constitutional provisions, 'health' and 'law and order' are state subjects. Therefore, states and UTs have the primary responsibility to take note of events and eventualities, and to take appropriate action to prevent violence against doctors, including the imposition of penalties or setting up helplines to extend immediate help, he said.

Plea on Arun Goel's appointment as EC junked

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday refused to quash the appointment of Arun Goel as the Election Commissioner (EC).

It said that the five-judge Constitution bench, while giving its ruling on the panel for appointment of Election Commissioner and Chief Election Commissioner (CEC), had perused the files related to the same and decided to not pass any orders against it.

Goel's appointment had attracted SC's attention while the bench was hearing pleas seeking a transparent mechanism for appointment of EC and CEC. The bench had grilled the Centre for the promptness with which he was designated and remarked that the file was cleared in "haste" and "tearing hurry".

A bench of Justices Sanjiv Khanna and SV Bhatti said that the application of the law laid down in SC's ruling on the panel had a prospective and not a retrospective effect.

"Mr Bhushan, now the law is in place.... As far as past is concerned... it may not be correct.. as far as appointment now made it concerned, they would've made earlier also... the appointment was made in between but that is not a good ground for us to interfere... It was the same process in place all these years. Normally what happens is the search committee is formed and then the Constitution bench had made observations about it and they could've done that... Your concern has been taken care of by the Constitution bench judgement. This has been examined and a second round may not be correct. I wanted to go through it but when all this has been examined by the Constitution bench, why should we go into it?" Justice Khanna asked.

Advocate Prashant Bhushan, who appeared for NGO Association for Democratic Reforms, pleaded that selection should have been made by the committee. "When the matter commenced hearing on November 17, I mentioned that there was a vacancy still subsisting since May. Then the matter stood posted on 22nd. On 18th, the file was moved by the law minister. He included four names — all IAS officers, three retired. On the same day he applied for voluntary retirement. His notice period was waived and he was allowed to retire the same day," Bhushan said.

Andaman chief secy's suspension stayed, ₹5L fine imposed on L-G

The Supreme Court on Friday stayed the suspension of Keshav Chandra, the chief secretary of the Andaman & Nicobar Islands administration. It also imposed a fine of `5 lakh on the lieutenant governor Admiral DK Joshi for failing to implement the directions for daily wagers' benefits. The order was passed by a bench of CJI DY Chandrachud, Justices JB Pardiwala and Manoj Mishra after hearing attorney general R Venkataramani. Referring to the order passed by the Calcutta High Court's Port Blair circuit bench, Venkataramani said that the HC "suspended the chief secretary in exercise of contempt jurisdiction". The CJI, in the lighter vein, said, "You (Chandra) must have riled up the judge so much to get this." The bench although stayed portions of the HC order that dealt with suspension and imposition of the fine, but agreed to issue notice in the plea.

'Hear plea against BJP leader afresh'
The SC on Friday set aside an order of the Calcutta High Court, which, while hearing a complaint accusing BJP leader Suvendu Adhikari of promoting enmity between two groups, had said that West Bengal police can register an FIR against him if it is sure that offence was made out. An SC bench requested the chief justice of the high court to hear the plea afresh.

Yes Bank founder refused bail
Extraordinary cases involving high stakes should be taken up on high priority, SC on Friday told the Enforcement Directorate while refusing to grant bail to Yes Bank founder Rana Kapoor in a money laundering case. Observing that Kapoor has rocked the entire financial system of the country, the bench pulled up ED for the slow pace of investigation.

8 Naval veterans shifted out of solitary confinement in Doha

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

THE eight former naval veterans, after being in solitary confinement in Qatar for over 10 months, have now been clubbed in pairs and are living on a twin-sharing basis in Doha.

"This has brought some respite to the veterans," said a source, adding each cell has two officers living together.

The decision is said to be good for their emotional well-being 10 months after living a secluded life. "Their families who are in Doha, or those who come to see them from India are allowed to meet them. Once-a-week phone calls are also being permitted to those who have families back home in India," sources said.

Meanwhile, after two hearings were held in July, the next hearing for the ongoing trial has been fixed for October 3.

"The investigators too have been questioned during the ongoing trial, and though exact details of the charges are not yet known, there is optimism that justice will prevail and the veterans will be repatriated," sources said.

Legal costs
The Indian government is reportedly extending all possible support such as legal aid to these veterans. The expenses that the Indian government has spent on legal aid on Doha has increased from `7.4 lakh in 2022 to `8.41 crore (until June 2023). These numbers were disclosed in Parliament by Minister of State for External Affairs V Muraleedharan recently.

The ICWF, set up in 2009, assists Indians in times of distress and emergency.

The eight officers who had served with distinction with the Indian Navy in various posts were reportedly kept in solitary confinement in Qatar and faced charges of spying.

The veterans are Captain Navtej Singh Gill, Captain Birendra Kumar Verma, Captain Saurabh Vasisht, Commander Amit Nagpal, Commander Purnendu Tiwari, Commander Sugunakar Pakala, Commander Sanjeev Gupta and sailor Ragesh.

Earlier this year, the Indian government said it will not "put pressure on Qatar" or interfere, but is keeping a "close watch", on the Qatari legal process that is underway for the eight detained former Indian Navy personnel in the Gulf country.

It was on August 30 last year that the eight former naval officers were picked up by Qatari intelligence authorities.

Adding to the intrigue was that no reason was given and none of the detainees has been charged with any crime.

NHAI sets up new design wing to keep tab on fitness of bridges

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

TO ensure successful execution of road infrastructure projects and keep a tab on fitness of critical bridges and tunnels, the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) has set up a design division. The unit will formulate policy and guidelines for planning, soil investigation, design, construction and maintenance of bridges, tunnels and other structures that are being maintained by the agency.

One of the principal objectives of the decision to create a dedicated division is to carry out study and analyse failed project – bridge, tunnel or reinforced earth wall and prevent future occurrence.

According to the NHAI officials, the approval to set up the division at NHAI's headquarters was granted in a meeting of the executive committee held in July. The unit has been mandated to review all the design of all bridges, tunnels or structures of certain specifications.

One of the functions is to review standalone bridges and specialised structures at Detailed Project Report (DPR) stage, which have already started after June 30.

The officials said that it will also empanel design consultants, proof consultants, soil or material testing labs, and bridge, tunnels, reinforced earth walls or geotech experts.

"To undertake the review of construction methodologies, temporary structures, lifting and launching methods, pre-stressing method, etc. of selected bridges and structures with span of more than 200 metres and special structures on random basis...To nominate the team of experts from the empanelled list in case of failures of bridges, structures, tunnels and RE walls for detailed analysis and issue guidelines to prevent such failures in future," read the circular issued by the NHAI.

The newly created entity will also develop an IT based monitoring system on bridge inventory, inspection records, identification of distressed bridges and propose an annual plan for repair or reconstruction of distressed bridges.

The unit has been allowed to engage advisors, consultants, or Geotech experts as and when required. Design division may also seek help from design experts, research scholars, and post graduate students from Indian Institutes of Technology (IITs) and National Institutes Of Technology (NITs), stated the note.

New division
The design unit has been mandated to review designs of all bridges, tunnels or structures of certain specifications. One of the functions is to review standalone bridges and specialised structures at Detailed Project Report stage, which have already started after June 30.

India's trade with LAC touches $50 billion

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA and Latin America Caribbean (LAC) have clocked an impressive growth in bilateral trade worth $50 billion in the financial year 2022-23.

"The increase in trade is a testament to both the strength and potential of our economic partnership. It is worth noting, that India's exports to Brazil for example, stands at $10 billion, which is almost twice of actually what we export to Japan. Similarly, our exports to Mexico is in excess of $5 billion, which is actually more than our exports to Canada. With the Dominican Republic, our exports last year were $329 million, and there are some Asian countries which still haven't come to that level," said External Affairs Minister J Jaishankar speaking at the 9th India LAC Conclave, which was attended by 17 representatives from 11 countries from LAC.

He further said the target was to double the trade to reach $100 billion by 2027.

India is executing projects in the LAC region to develop critical infrastructure, including in power transmission. There have been some notable contracts that were awarded in the last few weeks — roads, oil and gas and also connectivity, renewable energy and defense.

"Our development partnership is another expanding element of our relationship. Government of India has extended so far 35 lines of credit to our partners, like Bolivia, Cuba, Guyana, Honduras, Jamaica, Nicaragua and Suriname. Close to $900 million have been extended under these Lines and we have already completed 21 of these committed projects. Our development projects, certainly we are proud of this, that they have generated local employment," Jaishankar said.

Indian companies have played a significant role in this growth, with a strong presence in sectors like agriculture, energy including renewables, information technology, pharmaceuticals, manufacturing and automobiles, among others in the LAC region. Indian companies have invested around $15 billion in the region. India is exporting refined products to the region.

"If we look at the automobile sector, the car exports to Latin America actually today constitute one-third of India's global car exports, and Mexico is actually the second largest market for Indian cars. Other major markets are Chile, Peru, Colombia, Ecuador, Panama and Guatemala. Motorcycle exports also constitute one-third of India's global exports, and Colombia is the number one as a market for our motorcycles, for our two wheelers. I must acknowledge Mexico, Guatemala and Peru as other significant markets," Jaishankar added.

Meanwhile, the LAC region is a big source of gold, copper and other mineral concentrates, and also wood. India's gold import from LAC last year was in excess of $6.5 billion and these were mainly from Bolivia, Peru, Brazil, Colombia, Dominican Republic, Argentina, Mexico and Ecuador.

Fast-tracking growth

Exports to Latin America rises 19% to $22.41 bn in FY23 from FY22

India's exports to Brazil at $9.9 billion are higher than those to traditional partners such as Japan at $5.46 billion

Car exports to Latin America accounts for one-third of India's global car exports of 6.68 billion

India is the second largest supplier of motorcycles to Latin America

Mexico is the second largest global market for Indian cars at $973 bn

Exports to Mexico at $5.2 billion are more than the exports to $3.15 billion to Russia

Exports of $273 million to remote Honduras are more than outbound shipments of $220 million to Cambodia

J&K ENCOUNTER

Three security personnel were injured in an encounter with militants in J&K's Kulgam district on Friday, police said. The encounter broke out in the higher reaches of the Halan forest area of Kulgam in south Kashmir, they said.

Ruling Congress steps up attack on BJP in election-bound Rajasthan • BJP allies face uncertain times in Maharashtra

Gehlot mocks BJP for turning polls into PM vs CM contest

Mamata Banerjee was moving around on a wheelchair, but she won the election. BJP people are afraid that even Ashok Gehlot can win the election by roaming around on a wheelchair

Ashok Gehlot, CM

I'm servant of state: CM

Gelhot took a jibe at the PM and said, "Modi is an international leader. Why is the BJP bringing him in the state? I am a servant of Rajasthan. Modi is Vishwaguru. How can I compete with him?"

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

AMID indications that the BJP is trying to turn the Rajasthan assembly election into a PM versus CM fight, Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot targeted the BJP at a press conference in Jaipur on Friday.

Gehlot asked why the BJP is bringing in Prime Minister Narendra Modi to the state election. Taking a jibe at Modi, Gehlot said, "Modi is an international leader. Why is the BJP bringing him? I am a servant of Rajasthan, and Modi is Vishwaguru, how can I compete with him?"

Commenting on BJP's infighting for the post of chief minister, Gehlot asked why the BJP is shying away from naming Vasundhara Raje as the party's CM face. "Vasundhara Raje should be the real CM face. They have kept it hidden. Here BJP leaders cannot become the CM face even in 25 years. Even after winning 4-5 elections, the BJP high command is underestimating Raje," Gehlot said.

Attacking the vying of other BJP leaders such as Rajendra Rathore and Union Minister Gajendra Singh for the post, Gehlot said, "Regarding the self-declared CM faces of BJP, are these people worthy of becoming the chief minister? Will the people of Rajasthan accept them? They are so incompetent. These people say they will contest elections on the face of PM. I will contest elections on the basis of my work done in Rajasthan."

Taking a dig at BJP leaders' comments on his leg injury, Gehlot said, "BJP leaders are saying that I am not hurt, that I have intentionally tied the strap. If they ask, I can send my CT scan report to them. They are such shameless people. They are not even ashamed that they are making such comments about the injury of their Chief Minister. They are saying that Gehlot has deliberately tied the belt. I have fractures on both my legs. One leg has three fractures on the toe and one has a hairline fracture," Gehlot said.

Comparing his injury to Mamata Banerjee's during the West Bengal election, Gehlot said, "Mamata Banerjee was moving around on a wheelchair, but she won the election. BJP people are afraid that even Ashok Gehlot can win the election by roaming around on a wheelchair."

Shinde says he has Modi's blessings, will stay as CM

"I wonder why Prithviraj Chavan (who talked about CM's replacement) is saying this. He is a good friend of mine. He has now stopped. He must have realised that the info with him carried no value"

Eknath Shinde, CM

Oppn slams Shinde govt

Shiv Sena leader (UBT) Aaditya Thackeray said the white paper of the industry revealed that Maha Vikas Aghadi had worked on the `1.50 lakh crore investment of Vedanta-Foxconn project but the Shinde government couldn't retain it.

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

ON the last day of the Maharashtra assembly's monsoon session, chief minister Eknath Shinde on Friday reiterated that there would not be a change of guard in Maharashtra because he has the "blessings of Prime Minister Narendra Modi."

Last week while replying to the Opposition, Shinde strongly put across his point that there was no talk about replacing him. Ever since Ajit Pawar joined as the deputy CM in the BJP-led government, there have been rumours that Shinde will be replaced soon. The buzz gained momentum after Shinde along with his family members met PM Modi, which was viewed as his "farewell meeting."

However, Shinde on Friday said he has the blessings of the PM and that his work has been appreciated. He tried to drive home the point that there was no truth in the speculation about changing the CM.

Shinde said his government works hard on the ground, unlike the earlier dispensation that preferred to work from home and via Facebook. Shinde said the Opposition has been issuing dates for his resignations so much so that former CM Prithviraj Chavan talked about Shinde's replacement.

"I really wonder why Prithviraj Chavan is speaking like this. He is a good friend of mine. He is a good man. But now he has stopped. He must have realised that the information with him carried no value," Shinde said. "Our government is a performing government. We have successfully brought the government to the doorstep of the common man. We are working well; that's why Ajit Pawar and his faction joined us. We have more than 170 MLAs in the 288-member House," Shinde asserted.

Sources said the BJP has conveyed to the CM while referring to some surveys that under his leadership, the NDA won't be able to repeat the 2014 and 2019 shows in Lok Sabha elections.

"Shinde helped us to topple the Uddhav Thackeray government, but he has failed to bring along the Shiv Sena cadre. The local cadre of the Shiv Sena is still with Uddhav. Therefore, the change of guard will happen. The BJP is more concerned about its prospects in the Lok Sabha than the state assembly elections," said a BJP source.

Tomatoes disappear from Raj Bhawan

Punjab Governor and Chandigarh Administrator Banwarilal Purohit had issued an order to temporarily halt the consumption of tomatoes at the Raj Bhawan in solidarity with citizens who are facing the impact of rising prices. He said, "Stopping or reducing the consumption of an article is bound to have an effect on its price, as reducing demand will automatically lower the price. I hope people will use alternatives in their household for the time being and help to curtail the surge in tomato prices."With the move, Purohit aims to underscore the importance of responsible use of resources during challenging times, sources said.

'Anti-Hooda' camp within Haryana Cong

In the Haryana Congress, former union minister Kumari Selja, AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala and senior party leader and Tosham MLA Kiran Choudhry have put up a united front against former chief minister Bhupinder Singh Hooda. Many leaders and loyalists are following behind them and are identifying as part of the 'SRK' grouping – abbreviated with the first letters of the three leaders' names. These days the Selja-Randeep-Kiran clique, is rarely seen at the party's state unit meetings called by either Bhupinder Singh Hooda as the CLP leader or state party chief Udhai Bhan.

Mann-Manpreet rift widens after land case

The war of words between Punjab CM Bhagwant Mann and former Punjab Finance Minister BJP's Manpreet Singh Badal escalated this week after the Punjab vigilance came knocking on the latter's door. Manpreet and Mann has been trading barbs at each other after the former was summoned by the Punjab vigilance in connection with a land case in Bathinda. Termind manpreet 'the biggest dramebaaz', Mann said those living in palatial houses must be thrown into political oblivion. In his sharp reaction, Manpreet likened Mann to a 'Muglia Shehzada' and called him a power-drunk royal.

Tribal man hurt in firing by BJP MLA's son in MP's Singrauli

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

A 34-year-old tribal man, Surya Prakash Khairwar, sustained injuries in a firing allegedly by the ruling BJP's third-time MLA Ramlallu Vaishya's son Vivek Vaishya at Morba in Singrauli district of Madhya Pradesh on Thursday.

The incident happened a month after a viral video of Pravesh Shukla, reportedly a BJP man, peeing on Dashmat Rawat, a tribal, in the adjoining Sidhi district, had triggered national outrage on July 4, resulting in Shukla's arrest.

As per the FIR filed at the Morba police station, Khairwar was going on a motorbike at around 5.30 pm, when he saw his brothers in altercation with one Dipak Panika. When he tried to intervene, Vivek (who was seated in a car) fired from his pistol. The bullet allegedly hit Khairwar's hand. Vivek has been booked under various relevant acts and attempts are being made to arrest him.

"It has come to our knowledge that Vivek has been accused in other cases in the past, under which action was already initiated against him," said additional SP (ASP-Singrauli) Shiv Kumar Verma.

Govt jobs for scholars completing research on time, says Adityanath

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

CALLING upon the researchers working under Chief Minister's Fellowship Scheme in aspirational development blocks of the state to work with full commitment, Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath has asked them to consider themselves as a 'connect' between the public and the state.

Awareness about govt schemes related to farmers, women and girls should be created and they should be encouraged to take the benefit of the schemes

Yogi Adityanath, UP CM

Addressing the scholars during an event on Friday, the CM said, "Researchers working on fellowships for three years in their respective development blocks should act as a 'connect', linking the public with the welfare schemes of the government. All research scholars should proceed with a common goal of getting 100 per cent participation of their respective blocks in Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan till the end of their research tenure."

Yogi said that Uttar Pradesh had neither a shortage of funds nor manpower. "Focus on the work in education, health, farmers, women and infrastructure in aspirational development blocks. The research scholars, who will complete their tenure of three years with diligence and commitment and will present the best research management in writing, will be given weightage in government jobs along with age relaxation."

Emphasising that NITI Aayog had selected 112 districts as aspirational districts in 2018, the CM said, "Eight UP districts — Siddharthnagar, Balrampur, Shravasti, Bahraich, Chandauli, Sonbhadra, Chitrakoot, and Fatehpur — also figured on the list."

All of them were at the most backward position in terms of education, healthcare, agriculture, water resources, employment, skill development, financial inclusion and infrastructure. "Awareness about government schemes related to farmers, women and girls should be created in the people and they should be encouraged to take benefit of the welfare schemes," he said.

15 feared dead after landslide near Gaurikund in U'khand

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

AT least 15 people were feared dead near Gaurikund in Uttarakhand after incessant rains triggered a massive landslide, officials said on Friday.

The State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) has recovered three bodies. Separate teams of SDRF and NDRF are carrying out search operations at various places in search of the remaining missing persons.

District disaster management officer Nandan Singh Rajwar told this newspaper, "Two shops in front of a culvert were damaged due to a landslide triggered by torrential rains in Gaurikund late on Thursday night." These people were working in shops when the accident took place. Most of them were of Nepalese origin.

"Due to the continuous falling of stones from the adjacent hill after torrential rains, it is difficult to evacuate those trapped inside their shops. Relief work is also being hampered," said an official of the district disaster management.

"Due to the ongoing landslide at the site, relief work has to be carried out with great caution," he added.

SDRF commandant Manikant Mishra said, "Relief teams are facing difficulty in carrying out rescue work due to heavy boulders and stones falling from the hill. The district administration and disaster management teams are on the spot, and search operations are going on."

"Five separate teams of SDRF are looking for the missing on the banks of the river and elsewhere," said Mishra.

Chamoli disaster management officer Nandkishore Joshi said the Rishikesh-Badrinath highway is closed in Kameda and Kanarprayag due to torrential rains. Around 150 vehicles to and from Rudraprayag, Srinagar, Rishikesh, Dehradun, Haridwar, Delhi, Karnprayag, Joshimath, Badrinath and Gopeshwar were stranded on Friday. According to the information received till late evening, 355 vehicles are still stranded there.

"Due to the rise in the water level of Tehri Lake, land erosion has started on the Gangotri Highway, near the taxi stand in Chinyalisaur, due to which about 20 metres of Gangotri Highway has been damaged," said officials.

According to SDRF officers, "Due to the bad weather, the flight of IndiGo from Delhi to Jolly Grant returned from the airport sky, which was scheduled to land at Dehradun airport at 7.30 am."

Mental health takes a toll on kids in Manipur

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Guwahati

FACED with an uncertain future amid the ethnic violence, displaced people in strife-torn Manipur, particularly children, are slowly slipping into depression, officials said. They started arriving at the relief camps in early May, with the children highly traumatised. Despite repeated counselling, they have not fully recovered.

"We have started noticing symptoms of depression in people displaced due to violence, especially children. There are some who do not want to venture out of their rooms — a telltale sign of depression," said Yurembam Indramani, District Child Protection Officer, Imphal West.

"There is violence almost every day. Anxiety has set in among the inmates. They wonder for how long they will have to stay in relief camps and if they ever be able to return to their villages," he said. A team from NIMHANS Bengaluru will visit the relief camps and assess the nature of the inmates' mental health. They will also hold a workshop for counselors from August 7-10.

SCARS OF ETHNIC CLASH

- About 11,000 displaced children are lodged in 337 relief camps
- 167 of them are set up in Imphal East, Imphal West, Kakching, Thoubal, Jiribam and Bishnupur (Meitei-majority districts)
- 170 are placed in Churachandpur, Kangpokpi and Tengnoupal (Kuki-majority districts)

The elderly inmates at relief camps often discuss violence. The children there get to hear what they are discussing. This is affecting them

Sandhyarani Mangshatabam, programme officer of State Child Protection Society

Sandhyarani Mangshatabam, programme officer of State Child Protection Society, said, "The Manipur Social Welfare Department has a child protection unit in every district. Each district has a counsellor. We also have childcare institutions in every district. The counsellors of all these institutions are working in tandem," she said, adding, "I can't say the children's mental condition has improved. Elderly inmates often discuss violence. The children get to hear their discussions. This is greatly affecting them."

"The children are still traumatised. Their fear somewhat reduced after they started going to schools," Indramani said.

Tribal body slams SG for remarks on unclaimed bodies

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

THE Indigenous Tribal Leaders' Forum (ITLF) on Friday slammed Solicitor General Tushar Mehta for his alleged statement in the Supreme Court that most of the bodies lying unclaimed in Manipur were that of "infiltrators".

"Showing no empathy and respect for innocent tribals who were mercilessly lynched in Manipur's capital Imphal, the SG had told the SC on August 1 that most of the bodies lying unclaimed are of infiltrators," the ITLF said in a statement.

Such unwarranted comments by him revealed that his office was openly partial in its handling of the ethnic conflict. "The ITLF vehemently condemns the SG for his comments on Kuki-Zo tribals, who are being vilified even after death to suit the narrative of the majority Meitei community," the tribal organisation added.

Only 11 claims from Gujarat under PM cover for fishermen in 3 years

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

UNDER the Centre's Pradhan Mantri Matsya Sampada Yojana (PMMSY) scheme for fishermen, only 11 persons in Gujarat have made claims in the last three years, but none of these claims have been settled, according to the statistics given by the Fisheries, Animal Husbandry and Dairying Department in the Lok Sabha.

The cumbersome documentation process has been blamed for the government's failure to settle the claim under the PMMSY scheme.

The PMMSY offers Group Accident Insurance Scheme (GAIS) coverage to all fishermen. The insurance coverage comprises ₹5,00,000 against accidental death or permanent entire disability, ₹2,50,000 for permanent partial disability, and hospitalisation expenses in the event of an accident for an amount of ₹25,000.

Two MPs on August 1 asked in the Lok Sabha about the number of fishermen covered by the National Scheme of Welfare of Fishermen as well as claims received and settled during the previous three years. According to statistics given by the Fisheries, Animal Husbandry and Dairying Department for the period between July 26, 2021 and July 25, 2022, one fisherman from Gujarat applied under PMMSY scheme but the claim has not been settled.

From July 26. 2022 to July 25, 2023, ten people applied under PMMSY scheme but not a single claim has been settled. For the entire India, 405 fishermen applied under the PMMSY scheme from July 26, 2021 to July 25 2022. Of this 279 claims have been settled. From July 26, 2022 to July 25, 2023, 305 fishermen applied, and 86 claims settled.

Feroze Sidi, a Member of the Fisherman Association in Dwarka, also a former Congress corporator, said "The document process in PMMSY scheme is so complex that if people die accidentally at sea, and if there is a single letter difference in any government document in the token given for claim by the fisheries department, then they will ask many clarification documents."

In a first, Ukraine's sea drones hit Russian warship at Black Sea port

Attack on Olenegorsky Gornyak left it incapable of performing combat missions: Kyiv official

KYIV

UKRAINE said its sea drones struck a major Russian port on Friday and damaged a warship in an attack that underlined Kyiv's growing capabilities.

The strike on Novorossiysk—which halted maritime traffic for a few hours—marks the first time a commercial Russian port has been targeted in the conflict. The Black Sea port lies about 110 kilometres east of Crimea, where Russia's Defence Ministry said it thwarted another attack overnight.

The Security Service of Ukraine and the country's navy carried out the attack that damaged Olenegorsky Gornyak, a landing vessel of the Russian navy, according to an official with the security service. The official, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said the attack made the ship unable to perform combat missions.

Satellite photos analysed by AP appeared to show the ship leaking oil. The image from Planet Labs, taken a few hours after the attack, showed a ship dockside with another vessel next to it. The ship in the image matched the measurements of the Olenegorsky Gornyak, as well as known physical features of the vessel.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy noted that he had received a report from the country's security service, the SBU, but didn't say what was in it. "I will only say that we are all grateful to the Security Service of Ukraine for pushing back the war to the aggressor state. What you bring to the world, you end up with the same," he said.

The Russian Defence Ministry claimed that the navy fended off Friday's attack, saying that its ships destroyed two Ukrainian sea drones. Footage published on Russian channels appeared to show a ship firing into the sea and a burning object exploding.

The Caspian Pipeline Consortium, which operates an oil terminal in Novorossiysk, said maritime traffic was halted for a few hours but that its facilities were not damaged. The regional governor said there were no casualties. AP

CHINA TO LIFT TARIFFS ON AUSTRALIAN BARLEY

China said on Friday it will remove extra tariffs on Australian barley, in the latest thawing of ties between the two after years of tensions

LEVIES IN 2020

China effectively closed its door to Australian barley in May 2020 by imposing an 80.5% tariff after the previous Australian govt angered Beijing by calling for an independent inquiry into the origins of Covid-19

It also stopped imports of some of Australia's most significant commodities, including coal, which curbed billions of dollars in trade

IMPROVING TIES

On Friday, China's commerce ministry said it was "no longer necessary to continue to impose anti-dumping duties and countervailing duties on imports of barley originating in Australia in view of changes in the Chinese barley market"

In turn, Australia said it would drop a retaliatory case against the world's second-biggest economy at the World Trade Organisation, which was paused earlier this year as the countries' trade ministers stepped up negotiations

EYES ON WINE

With the barley trade reopened, the Australian government said it expects China will lift its trade barriers to Australian wine

Trade Minister Don Farrell said he is keen to get quality Australian wine back into China by removing anti-dumping measures imposed since November 2020, adding that he had seen growers "leaving grapes to wilt on the vine rather than suffer the uncertainty of the global market"

> We welcome this outcome, which paves the way for our barley exporters to re-enter the Chinese market—benefiting Australian producers and Chinese consumers

NAVALNY JAILED FOR 19 YEARS ON EXTREMISM CHARGES

MELEKHOVO

A Russian court convicted imprisoned opposition leader Alexei Navalny on charges of extremism and sentenced him to 19 years in prison on Friday. Navalny is already serving a nine-year term on a variety of charges that he says were politically motivated.

Navalny was ordered to serve the new prison term in a "special regime" penal colony, a term that refers to the Russian prisons with the highest level of security and the harshest inmate restrictions. It wasn't immediately clear when he would be transferred to such a colony from the Melekhovo prison. By law, Navalny has 10 days to appeal the verdict, and if he does, it will not take effect until the appeal is adjudicated.

Alexei Navalny

The new charges related to the activities of Navalny's anti-corruption foundation and statements by his top associates. It was his fifth criminal conviction and the third and longest prison term handed to him, all of which his supporters see as a deliberate Kremlin strategy to silence its most ardent opponent. It wasn't immediately clear whether he would serve this new term concurrently with his current sentence on charges of fraud and contempt of court.

The prosecution had demanded a 20-year prison sentence, and Navalny said beforehand that he expected to receive a lengthy term. Navalny appeared in the courtroom wearing prison garb and looking gaunt, but with a defiant smile on his face. It took the judge less than 10 minutes to announce the verdict and the sentence. The hearing was broadcast to reporters in a separate room, but the judge's speech was barely audible. Navalny's spokesperson, Kira Yarmysh, confirmed the verdict on social media, and Russian news agencies RIA Novosti and Tass ran direct quotes from the verdict. AP

Ex-PM Abbasi in the race for caretaker Pak premier post

ISLAMABAD

FORMER Pakistan PM Shahid Khaqan Abbasi and independent lawmaker from Balochistan Aslam Bhootani's names were doing rounds as coalition partners on Friday discussed the appointment of the caretaker prime minister.

Former finance minister Hafeez Sheikh and Fawad Hassan Fawad, former principal secretary to ex-PM Nawaz Sharif, were also among those names discussed at the Zoom meeting held by members of the allies parties in the ruling coalition led by Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N), Geo News quoted a source as saying. The source added the coalition parties have decided to continue further consultations and the meetings, also attended by Balochistan National Party Chairman Akhtar Mengal, Jamhoori Wattan Party (JWP) leader Shahzain Bugti, Muttahida Qaumi Movement-Pakistan (MQM) leader Khalid Maqbool Siddiqui, Bhootani, and National Democratic Movement (NDM) Chairman Mohsin Dawar, will be held again. PTI

Deadly flooding in China worsens, rescues and evacuations intensify

BEIJING

HEAVY rain and high water levels on rivers in northeastern China were threatening cities downstream on Friday, prompting the evacuation of thousands, although the country appears to have averted the worst effects of the typhoon season.

Meanwhile, China's Ministry of Emergency Management said on Friday that 142 of the deaths or disappearances recorded in July were caused by flooding or geological disasters. Also, more than 2,300 houses collapsed, and direct economic losses amounted to $2.2 billion.

Hebei province, which surrounds Beijing on three sides, issued alerts for several of its cities. The province of Heilongjiang to the north was evacuating entire villages in anticipation of life-threatening deluges.

Rescue work remains underway. At least 20 people have been reported killed in Beijing's suburbs and another 27 were missing following the weekend storms that quickly overwhelmed drainage systems.

Power was knocked out in areas, public transport and summer classes were suspended and citizens of the metropolis of more than 20 million were told to stay home. The cities of Tianjin and Zhuozhou were also hit hard. Fire services aided by volunteer rescue groups searched apartment buildings and railway tunnels for stranded people, bringing hundreds to safety. The government of Tianjin, a port east of Beijing, said 35,000 people were evacuated from near the swollen Yongding River. As much as 500 millimetres of rain has fallen in some places since Saturday, according to the Hebei province weather agency. Some areas reported as much as 90 mm of rainfall per hour. Agencies

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

IN a big relief to consumers and big laptop manufactures, the government has deferred import restrictions on laptops, all-in-one personal computers, and tablets.

As per the guidelines provided by the Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT), import of these devices can be carried out without requiring a valid licence until October 31.

This means the mandatory requirement of licence for bulk imports of computers, laptops and tablets would come into effect from November 1, 2023.

The government has on Thursday announced restrictions on imports of computers, laptops and tablets in order to give a boost to local manufacturing. However, the decision created a lot of concerns over potential disruption in the supply of these goods during the festive season when significant sales of electronic items take place. There were also concerns that prices will shoot up ahead of the festive season.

Earlier, the officials from the Ministry of Electronics & Information Technology (Meity) had said there will be no disruption to goods in transit, and that tech companies will get sufficient time to apply for the license, and it can easily be applied online.

The Meity officials told media that companies will get the licence within 10-15 minutes after applying on DGFT portal. The official said one company can apply for as many licenses with different branches and cities. "The prices of these goods - laptops, tablets, personal computers, etc won't rise and there will be no disruption to goods in transit," said the official.

"This is not at all about license raj. It is about regulating imports to ensure trusted and verifiable systems and ensuring India tech eco-system uses trusted and verified systems only that are imported and/or domestically manufactured trusted systems / products," said Meity minister Rajeev Chandrasekhar in a tweet.

Meanwhile, experts are of the view that the abrupt decision to curb imports of personal computers, laptops, or tablets may have stemmed from the need to boost production-linked incentive (PLI) scheme 2.0, which has been a slow starter. After the successful implementation of the scheme for mobile manufacturing, the government launched a similar scheme for large hardware. However, it didn't achieve the same level of success as the mobile scheme. Therefore, in June 2023, the government relaunched the scheme doubling the incentives to ₹17,000 crore.

As per Meity officials, only two companies have filed applications under the scheme as of July 31. Companies can file their application till August 30. Experts believe the decision to curb imports of these devices can pose challenges for companies, which do not opt for the PLI scheme for large electronics and fail to tie-up with Indian contract manufacturers.

ASIA

STOCKS TRADE MIXED AS WALL STREET SINKS

Asian shares traded mixed on Friday after Wall Street tanked for a third consecutive session following a British interest rate hike. Markets in Tokyo, Shanghai and Hong Kong advanced and South Korean shares remained flat. Japanese index Nikkei 225 gained 0.1% to 32,192.75 while Kong Kong's Hang Seng gained 0.61% to 19,539.46. The Kospi in Seoul fell less than 0.1% to 2,602.80 and Sydney's S&P-ASX 200 gained 0.2% to 7,325.30. Wall Street stocks traded lower on Thursday after the Bank of England on Thursday raised its main lending rate to a 15-year. Benchmark S&P 500 index declined 0.3% and Dow Jones Industrial Average lost 0.2% to 35,215.89 and the Nasdaq composite dipped 0.1% to 13,959.72. Investors were rattled after Fitch Ratings had reduced its credit rating on US government debt, despite analyst comments that the change made little difference. Treasury yields in the bond market marched higher on Thursday, drawing money out of stocks.

PHILIPPINES

HEADLINE INFLATION SLOWS FURTHER IN JULY

The Philippines' headline inflation slowed to 4.7% in July, which is lower than the market consensus of a 4.9% year-on-year (YoY) increase. Fall in food, utilities, and transport inflation helped push headline inflation lower. Robust economic activity tied to the reopening of the economy kept services inflation at elevated level. Personal services registered a 5.6% YoY rise while restaurants and accommodation posted a 7.9% YoY gain. . Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) Governor Eli Remolona indicated he will consider rate cuts should inflation settle "well within" the target band of 2-4%. Currently, the BSP rates hold on to a relatively narrow 75 bps spread over Fed funds. Analysts believe any decision to reverse into an easing mode will be tied to rate cuts by the Fed. They expect BSP to remain on hold in near term and monitor domestic price trends and global developments.

SRI LANKA

PRESIDENT WICKREMESINGHE SLAMS EFFORTS TO SCUTTLE DEBT RESTRUCTURING

Sri Lankan President Ranil Wickremesinghe on Friday slammed alleged "efforts" by smaller political groups to derail the domestic debt restructuring (DDR) through court orders. As part of its efforts to tide over the worst-ever economic crisis, the government in June received parliamentary approval for DDR. His remarks were an apparent reference to the opposition JVP (Janatha Vimukthi Peramuna or 'People's Liberation Front') which filed a fundamental rights petition in the Supreme Court in June seeking an order to prevent DDR measures being applied to pension funds. JVP had sought an order that would prevent the curtailment of loans obtained by the government from the Employees' Provident Fund (EPF) and Employees' Trust Fund (ETF) under the DDR. It claimed that obtaining funds from the EPF and ETF will take a hit from the DDR, which will hurt employee savings. The country has been its worst economic crisis in history in recent years.

Two stores opened in India have exceeded initial expectations: Tim Cook

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE performance of the two stores opened by Apple in India has exceeded the initial expectations of the company, said its CEO Tim Cook on Friday.

Cook, in the company's earnings call mentioned the company hit a June quarter revenue record in the country, and it grew double digits. "We also opened our first two retail stores during the quarter. And it's of course its early going currently, but they're currently beating our expectation in terms of how they're doing. We continue to work on building out the channel and putting more investment in our direct-to-consumer offers as well," said Cook.

In April 2023, the US-tech giant opened two stores in India in Mumbai and Delhi. The market share of Apple has been growing in India in the past few years. According to the latest report by Cyber Media Research, Apple has just a 5% market share in the smartphone market in Q2 2023, recording a significant Year-on-Year increase of 62% in its shipments. However, the company is also a top contributor in the Premium segment (Rs 25,000) with 25% share.

Calling India's market as the second largest smartphone market in the world, Cook said Apple ought to be doing really well here. "And where I'm really pleased with our growth there, we're still -- we still have a very, very modest and low share in the smartphone market. And so I think that it's a huge opportunity for us. And we're putting the -- all of our energies in making that occur," added Cook.

Apple is also expanding its manufacturing operations in India. Its exports in FY23 increased almost fourfold to exceed $5 billion.

SBI net profit rises 178% on increase in interest income

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

COUNTRY'S largest lender State Bank of India (SBI) on Friday announced 178% rise in net profit to ₹16,884 crore for the quarter ending June 30, mainly driven by fall in provisions for bad loans and higher interest income.

Bank's net interest income, the difference between income earned and interest paid, jumped 25% to ₹38,904.9 crore. Net interest margin, a key indicator of a profitability, rose to 3.47% from 3.23% a year ago.

The public sector lender improved its asset quality as the bank's gross non-performing assets (NPA) ratio fell to 2.76% at June-end from 3.91% a year ago. The net NPA ratio also improved to 0.71% in June 2023, as against 1% a year ago. Its gross NPA stood at ₹91,327 crore as on June end this year compared to ₹1.13 lakh crore in the same period previous year. Fall in bad loans helped the bank to make lower provisions. Provisions for the quarter fell 43% year-on-year to ₹2,501.3 crore.

Addressing the press conference, SBI Chairman Dinesh Khara said the bank is hopeful of achieving around 14-16% credit growth in the current fiscal. "Our credit growth will be broad-based in retail, agriculture, small and medium-sized enterprises and the corporate sector," he said.

Commenting about deposit growth, the chairman said that the bank will be mindful of the cost of growing the deposits. "I am still having excess Statutory Liquidity Ratio of ₹4 trillion. I am under no compulsion to pay up high to mobilise deposits. But, I will be very reasonable for my customers," Khara said.

Deposits of the bank grew 12% from a year ago to ₹45.3 lakh crore as on June end 2023 while gross advances increased by 13.9% to ₹33 lakh crore as on June end this year. SBI has a lending target of ₹3.5 lakh crore to the corporate sector in the current fiscal.

Byju's misses timeline set by creditors to amend $1.2 billion loan terms

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

TROUBLED edtech firm Byju's has missed an August 3 timeline set by its creditors to amend a $1.2 billion term loan.

On July 24, the steering committee of ad-hoc term loan lenders, who collectively own over 85% of the edtech firm's $1.2 billion term loan, said the successful execution of the amendment would immediately solve for the loan's acceleration and end all open litigation while avoiding further enforcement actions. Sources said discussions are on and it is progressing well in right direction and expected to close at the earliest. The next meeting with the lenders is scheduled early next week.

Byju's spokesperson said, "No deadline has been missed as August 3 was merely a hopeful date that was likely to be scheduled for a sign off."

Earlier in June, it had filed a complaint in the New York Supreme Court to challenge the acceleration of the $1.2 billion TLB (the firm secured this loan in November 2021) and sought to disqualify Redwood, an investment management firm. It had skipped paying $40 million interest. Meanwhile Davidson Kempner Capital Management, a US-based investment fund, is said to have initiated reconstitution of the board of Byju's subsidiary Aakash Educational Services in order to improve governance. "AESL board is being strengthened with three Think and Learn (Byju's) nominees and two independent directors," a spokesperson from Byju's said.

CEO Byju Raveendran might be the only representative of the parent on Aakash board. This comes a few days after Byju's parent Think and Learn has sent a legal notice to Aakash founders due to their alleged resistance to complete a share swap. The company had acquired Aakash for about $950 million in a cash and stock deal in 2021. Recently, two independent directors of Aakash Educational Services have resigned from the board.

In June, Byju's announced that it will launch the IPO of Aakash mid next year. The upcoming IPO will provide a significant capital infusion to bolster Aakash's infrastructure, broaden its reach, and extend high-quality test-prep education to a larger number of students across the nation, Byju's had said.

NCLT defers Go First lessors hearing to Sept 1

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

REVIVAL of Go First is likely to face more delay as the National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) on Friday deferred the hearing of applications filed by the aircraft lessors to September 1.

This deferment by the insolvency tribunal comes after the Delhi High Court denied Go First the permission to fly lessors' aircraft for scheduled maintenance.

A two-member bench of NCLT, comprising Mahendra Khandelwal and Rahul P Bhatnagar, has directed the resolution professional (RP) of Go First to submit details of the subsequent developments in the next 10 days, including the status of the maintenance of the leased aircraft.

Moreover, the tribunal has also asked the RP to file the reply over the pleas filed by three new Go First lessors in two weeks and a rejoinder, if any, by them next week.

During the proceeding, Senior Advocate Ramji Srinivasan, representing the RP, informed the tribunal that Go First has approached the Supreme Court against the orders of the Delhi High Court.

Earlier a single-member bench of the Delhi High Court had permitted the lessors of Go First to access and inspect the planes they had leased to the airline. This was also upheld by the division bench of the high court, following which Go First moved to the apex court. A senior aviation industry expert says that revival prospects of Go First, which stopped flying on May 3, is becoming challenging day by day as it continues to face hurdles in courts and tribunals.

Health minister to meet e-pharma cos next week

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

REPRESENTATIVES of online pharmacy companies will meet health minister Mansukh Mandaviya next week to discuss their issues over the government's firm stand to ban online sale of drugs, top government sources told this newspaper.

In February, this newspaper had reported that the health ministry had issued show-cause notices to 31 ePharmacy companies for selling drugs online without requisite licences.

"All the big ePharmacy players like Amazon, Flipkart, Practo, Tata1mg, PharmEasy, Apollo, Zeelabs and HealthKart are likely to meet the minister to put their concerns before him," a top source in the know of the developments confirmed this paper.

"It will be interesting to see if the industry representatives succeed in cajoling the health minister to change the government's stand," he said.

As per sources, the Centre has not yet finalised the draft rules for regulating ePharmacies. It is currently consulting with stakeholders to gather their views before officially notifying them in gazette. The government believes online sale of drugs, both with and without a prescription, poses threats to public health, including drug abuse, mainly among youth. It poses a major risk to national security, as online data can be misused for criminal activities such as promotion of addictive medicines. Meanwhile, as per experts, imposing a complete ban on online sale of drugs and medicines is not a solution to curb sale of spurious medicines as they are easily sold in brick-and-mortar stores, too. Moreover, online sector played a critical role during Covid pandemic, so the government should consider that too before taking stringent action.

Experts say if government imposes a complete ban on online sale of drugs and medicines, companies like Tata 1mg and Apollo Pharmacy, which are heavily involved in this segment, will be adversely affected.

Govt yet to finalise draft to regulate ePharmacies

Accordint to sources, the Centre has not yet finalised the draft rules for regulating ePharmacies. The government is currently consulting with stakeholders to gather their views before officially notifying them in gazette

'Gig jobs finding favour with employers'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

MANY organisations are now expressing their intention to increase the proportion of gig workers in their workforce for FY2024.

Nearly 55% of surveyed organisations have started using gig workers, says CIEL HR Services in its report on Employment Trends in the Gig Sector in India.

It said in certain cases the proportion of gig workers accounts for as high as 20% of organisations' overall workforce, suggesting a huge share of gig workers.

Also, the report highlights that about 50% of the gig workers expressed their interest to pursue full-time employment with companies. While gig work has gained popularity as an alternative form of employment, it appears that a considerable number of gig workers view it as a temporary or transitional phase in their careers, with the intention of eventually securing a more permanent full-time position.

"We are witnessing a paradigm shift in the world of work, with gig employment becoming increasingly popular among employers due to its advantages including cost-effectiveness, scalability, and access to specialised skills. However, gig workers are focusing on stability now more than ever," said Aditya Narayan Mishra, managing directot & chief executive officer at CIEL HR Services.

"It is evident that while gig work offers unique advantages, these workers are attracted towards job security and benefits that traditional employment offers. It's essential for businesses to strike a balance between leveraging the benefits of gig employment and recognising the growing importance of providing stability and growth opportunities for the workforce," he added.

The biggest challenge gig workers face is the uncertain nature of their employment, as 32% of respondents highlighted this issue.

The report says that this points to the lack of stability and predictability that gig workers often experience, such as uncertain project opportunities or fluctuating work hours. Lack of social security (24%) is another key challenge that gig workers face, leaving them financially vulnerable.

RCB appoint Andy Flower as head coach

Royal Challengers Bangalore on Friday appointed the vastly experienced Andy Flower as their head coach, officially ending the term of Mike Hesson and Sanjay Bangar. The contracts of both Hesson, director of cricket operations, and Bangar, the head coach, were up for renewal in September but the franchise decided to move on from them.

Chess wise, his style is very aggressive. Him and (Arjun) Erigaisi, both are very aggressive, they want to win every game

RB Ramesh, coach

JUST before the chess Olympiad in Mahabalipuram last year, India 'B', comprising D Gukesh, B Adhiban, R Praggnanandhaa, Nihal Sarin, Raunak Sadhwani and coach, RB Ramesh, met to decide the board order. All of them had legitimate arguments to play on the top board, such was their standing in the game. There was also an argument to play Gukesh, who had just broken 2680 in classical, in the 2nd or 3rd board. Unlike some of the others in that team, Gukesh is ultra-aggressive and proactive. While others like to be in control of the situation before planning skirmishes, Gukesh, 16 at the time, liked to create chaos, go for wins from the outset.

Wins, the debate went, may be hard to come by on the top board. The Tamil Nadu teen, though, refused to get along with the idea. Ramesh picks up the story. "When we were discussing board orders, there was a suggestion; should Gukesh play top board or 2nd or 3rd because he can score wins and scoring wins with the top board could be difficult," Ramesh tells this daily. "But he said 'I want to play top board'. He was supremely confident. By the time he was coming to the Olympiad, he was already displaying his self belief."

At the Olympiad, he displayed that self belief multiple times as he wiped the floor with Grandmasters twice his age and having 5x his experience. He began the tournament by winning eight on the trot before pocketing individual gold for top board. Judit Polgar, one of the legends of the board game, couldn't help but wonder at the teen phenom. The Hungarian, at the Olympiad as a pundit, was positively gushing whenever she spoke about Gukesh.

"He played amazingly," was how she summed up his tournament. What also caught the eye during the tournament was the way he was moving across the board. None of the stealth that top GMs usually employ. It was all-action, front-foot go-big-or-go-home (he usually went big) tactics that yielded him results. Ramesh sings from the same hymn sheet. "Chess wise, his style is very aggressive. Him and (Arjun) Erigaisi, both of them are very aggressive, they want to win every game," Ramesh explains. "Very proactive. Not reactive or conservative in approach and mindset. They believe in themselves that they can win. Very confident and they take lot of risks. With most players, even if they are confident, they wouldn't take too many risks. But these two take a lot of risks."

When you consider all of this, it's not really a surprise to note that the 17-year-old breached past Viswanathan Anand's mark to become the highest-rated Indian classical player at the ongoing FIDE World Cup on Thursday. Save for a brief while in 2016, Anand has had ownership of that title since July 1986. This kind of gives us a peek into two things; first, Anand married longevity with greatness so while other GMs kept coming, he was always better than them. Gukesh is still so young his parents were kids when Anand first climbed the ladder of greatness.

What has enabled Gukesh's rise and rise? Dedication to the cause. That dedication to the cause was visible in the way he put his head down and prepared for a post-pandemic future even during the initial lockdown. His coach Vishnu Prasanna, who has been with him for nearly the last half-a-dozen years, isn't surprised by the path his ward is on.

"He wasn't happy about that (the absence of over-the-board events)," Prasanna tells this daily. "But he was preparing himself for when the doors eventually opened. He reacted well after that. Whatever preparation he did during that time, it helped him when the tournaments started to happen."

What was it that he did? "Expand his repertoire, he had a narrow repertoire when the lockdown happened," Prasanna remembers. "He was working on his weaknesses, not really chilling... working on these things when you have no tournaments to look forward to can be very challenging but he did it."

When he's not featuring in tournaments, Gukesh can spend as many as 10 hours doing something related to chess —playing it, solving questions, working on openings, studying positions. That's before you take into account the mental and the physical — yoga as well as spending time at the gym — work he puts in. "He took an overall view of his game, mental, physical as well as chess. That is the secret to his discipline and consistency. I have worked mostly online with him since January, he has also received support from Vishy's (Viswanathan Anand) Academy. They handle most of the opening work. I send him questions to work on and we discuss it afterwards. He does meditation and yoga in the mornings before we start. After the Olympiad for a two month period, we worked between 10.00 AM to 4.00 PM. He would go to the gym after that. We would reconvene after that to exchange files. After that, we would work independently before we touch base next morning," Saravanan adds.

The two also came to an understanding. Gukesh's bad days in tournaments should be good days for most players. "Early on, what we discussed was even if 'we have a bad day... shouldn't be that bad. Your bad day should be somebody else's good day'. It's the kind of thinking we had. Now he doesn't have so many bad days as such. That is what has made him stay at the top, he's very consistent with results."

The soft-spoken Olympiad medallist, who plays card games like Avalon to wind down, has already achieved one of the two main targets they had discussed at the start of the year. Top 10. Next? Qualifying for the Candidates. He will begin his 3rd round at the FIDE World Cup on Saturday with the singular aim of achieving that within the next two weeks.

Archery Worlds: India women win historic gold

AGENCIES @Berlin

THE Indian women's compound team of Jyothi Surekha Vennam, Aditi Swami and Parneet Kaur on Friday creat try's first ever gold medal in the World Archery Championships.

The Indians won 235-229 against Mexico in a one-sided final. The trio also opened India's medal account in the championships. Earlier, India had stunned Colombia 220-216 in the semifinals after a 228-226 win over Chinese Taipei in the quarterfinals. This is the first time Indian archers became world champions after the country made its World Archery Championships debut in Punta Ala in 1981.

India's Jyothi Surekha Vennam, Parneet Kaur & Aditi Swami after winning gold

"We were focused on the process. We had won enough silver medals and we had decided yesterday that we will win the gold. This is a start and we will win more medals," Jyothi said. 17-year-old Aditi, who recently became U-18 world champion, is the juniormost member of the team. "It is a special moment to win the first medal and see the Indian flag go up," she said.

At a time when Indian recurve archers are in a downward spiral, the current achievement, albeit in a non-Olympic compound section, will be a big relief. In fact, all the Indian recurve archers are out of medal contention in this tournament. Dhiraj Bommadevara and Simranjeet Kaur's prequarterfinal exits on Thursday were the recurve archers' best finishes in the section.

TNPL physio drafted in Pak team for ACT

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

WHEN the touring Pakistan hockey team boarded the flight to Chennai for the Asian Champions Trophy, they had multiple problems. One, their main coach, Shahnaz Sheikh, had some visa problems so he couldn't travel. They got around that problem by elevating Muhammad Saqlain to that role with added backroom support of Rehan Butt. They had no workaround over the other issue. Their physio had also run into visa problems. So, they had to get creative. They opened some back channels and managed to secure a Chennai-based physio, Rajakamal.

Rajakamal, who has worked with Shyam Sundar Jayapalan (Sun Risers Hyderabad), was given the opportunity to work with the Green Shirts for the duration of the tournament and he had no hesitation in answering the call of duty. "I was informed about the job just one day before the first match (against Malaysia)," he told the media after their second encounter against South Korea on Friday. "They had come without a physio. I had worked with the state hockey team and worked with Nellai Kings in the Tamil Nadu Premier League. Because I was working as a sports physio currently, I got the option. It's very comfortable here, they are all making me feel at home."

When asked about the differences in being a physio in a sport like hockey as compared to cricket, he said: "Hockey is a short duration game, with higher intensity. Cricket doesn't have such a high intensity. There are more possibilities of contusion injuries like fractures and dislocations. Cricket isn't like that. There are also collision injuries possible here."

Chances are that their real work starts post game, like Rajakamal mentions. "Last night, after we finished, I finished my physio work around 12:30 in the night. I had a lot of treatments to do, those procedures are going for a while." He also mentions that professionalism will be the name of his game when India faces Pakistan next Wednesday. "I don't support anyone, I'm only thinking about players coming through the games without injuries."

India's Harmanpreet Singh (C) celebrates with teammates after scoring the equaliser during the Asian Champions Trophy clash against Japan on Friday | PRAVIKUMAR

Harmanpreet strikes to help India hold Japan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

A SPIRITED Japan outfit held India to a 1-1 draw on day two of the Asian Champions Trophy. Japan, defending Asian Games gold-medallists, scored the opener through Ken Nagayoshi in the second quarter via a penalty corner.

The hosts, who were looking slightly lacklustre in the opening two stanzas, created a lot of penalty corners in the last two quarters but managed to convert only one, thanks to Harmanpreet Singhs powerful drive in the 43rd minute.

Harmanpreet & Co. ditched their slow build-up for a more Indian counter-attacking style in the last two quarters. They created more openings as a result of it but failed to take advantage. The hosts next face table-topping Malaysia in Sunday's late game.

Earlier in the evening, coming back from their defeat in the opening game, Pakistan drew 1-1 with South Korea. In the second game, Malaysia continued their good run to register their second win of the tournament, beating China 5-1. Saturday is a rest day. China was the first to score, but Malaysia came back strong and did not look back after halftime. Friday's results: South Korea 1-1 Pakistan, China 1-5 Malaysia, India 1-1 Japan.

Pakistan hockey president, others await India visa

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

IT'S not only their consultant Shahnaz Sheikh, multiple Olympic and World Cup medallist, who is having a tough time procuring a visa for India, even the president of the Pakistan Hockey Federation (PHF) is facing the same issue. Muhammad Khalid Sajjad Khokhar, a retired Brigadier, is the chief of PHF.

The Pakistan hockey team is presently competing at the ongoing Asian Champions Trophy in Chennai. They played out a 1-1 draw against South Korea on Friday after losing their opener 1-3 against Malaysia a day before. Interestingly, the team on Friday hired a Chennai-based physio Rajakamal after its physio didn't get the visa. "No luck so far," one of the support staff of the team, who is in Pakistan, told this daily. While repeated attempts to obtain quotes from the PHF president and secretary bore no fruits, one of the support staff, who is in Chennai, confirmed non-issuance of the visa to Sheikh and PHF president till late night on Friday. "No, the duo has not been issued visas so far. Let's see what happens. It's still not clear whether they will come or not if the issue lingers on for a few more days," the support staff told this daily.

Six teams from the continent are participating in the tournament that will conclude on August 12. The sixth edition of the tournament was held in Dhaka, Bangladesh in 2021 while Hockey India was allocated the seventh edition by the Asian Hockey Federation (AHF). The continental body also didn't reply to queries sent to it regarding the non-issuance of visas to Pakistan support staff and the PHF chief.

CHENGDU: Jyothi Yarraji won India's first ever 100m hurdles medal — a bronze — at the World University Games while smashing her own national record time, on Friday. Another national record holder sprinter, Amlan Borgohain also won India's first ever 200m medal at the World University Games as he picked a bronze medal with a season's best time of 20.55 seconds.

Indian karate team set to miss Asian Games

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

A DAY after the Asian Games-bound wushu player tested positive, it is learnt that the karate team of India has not been accepted by the Asian Karate Federation. Despite India sending entries for the Games at Hangzhou, there might not be any team as of now. The reason for the non-participation was apparently because the AKF has not accepted India's entries. It held the Indian contingent ineligible because the names have not been approved by the National Sports Federation of karate which is recognised by the Asian and World Karate Federation. That means the team selected by the Sports Authority of India has not been accepted by the AKF. Matters were complicated by the fact that the sports ministry did not give recognition to the Karate India Organisation (KIO) for violation of the National Sports Code.

According to a status report submitted in the Delhi High Court, it is clear that the matter had been dragging on for quite some time. To make matters complicated, the WKF had written to the IOA saying it recognised KIO as the legitimate NSF and any athlete who is not part of KIO will not be eligible to compete internationally.

According to the report: "The IOA representative informed that a communication dated 14th June, 2023 was received from President, WKF addressed to the President, IOA stating that KIO is the sole WKF representative Karate body in India to select the athletes for International events held under the auspices of IOC, WKF and their representative continental bodies. Accordingly, the trials where the selection of athletes for the Asiad will be taking place, will need to strictly limit the participation to those affiliated members of KIO." The SAI, however, selected the team during the trials overseen by coaches of paramilitary forces and SAI not authorised by the KIO. The Delhi High Court on July 10 said, "Union of India, Karate India Organisation and IOA are directed to sit together to find out solutions to the issue so that a team can represent the country in the upcoming Asian Games..." Accordingly, a meeting was convened under the chairmanship of sports ministry's joint secretary, SAI, KIO and IOA and they decided to conduct another round of trials to select the best possible athletes. Interestingly, they chose the date as July 15, the last date of submission of entry by names for the Games.

Tilak's trailer on debut shows glimpse of what's to come

GOMESH S @Chennai

A 22-ball 39 seldom makes the headline in a T20I match. The odds are even less if your team crumbles from 77/4 to 145/9 while falling short by four runs to a team that has not been world beaters for a while now. However, as Friday dawned upon the Indian subcontinent, the scrutiny on the loss against West Indies in the first T20I apart, the biggest talking point was Tilak Varma.

The debutant's name has been on the radar for India debut since he stole the show in the Indian Premier League earlier this season. While the promise was always there from the 2020 U19 World Cup to the 2022 IPL when he made his debut for Mumbai Indians, this year has been the coming of age one for the left-hander.

The Hyderabad youngster's journey to the top is an inspiring tale in itself. What everyone wanted to see is how Varma takes to international cricket. On Thursday, he showed a trailer of what's to come in a potentially long career for India. He didn't care that Alzarri Joseph clocks in lat 140KPHs. He stood still and tonked a length ball — only his second in the innings — into the cow corner with ease. Joseph stood there and watched. Everyone knew what was coming on the next delivery. The lanky pacer ran in and pitched short into the left-hander, except Varma was ready. He moved across on the backfoot to shuffle and hook the bouncer into the stands. Three balls 12 runs, two sixes. Talk about making a statement of intent with Suryakumar Yadav, India's best T20 batter at the other end.

Tilak Varma stole the show on debut in the first T20I on Thursday | AFP

Its not just about the intent though. When Romario Shepherd came along to bowl a slower delivery across him, Varma waited. He got on his knees to go under and loft the ball over extra covers. So much that it would have reminded many of Suresh Raina's inside out shot. That overall strike rate of 177.27 doesn't look all that bad even though he fell to a slow bouncer from Shepherd shortly after.

For years now, lack of intent with the bat has been India's biggest concern in the shortest format. And now that transition is the first word in Indian cricket, they seem to be on the right track, at least in T20Is. The big three — Rohit Sharma, Virat Kohli and KL Rahul — haven't played any T20I since the World Cup last year. If that is not enough evidence, take a look at the top four in the first T20I on Thursday. Shubman Gill, Ishan Kishan, Yadav and Varma — three of the four are from the 2016, 2018 and 2020 U19 World Cup batches, respectively.

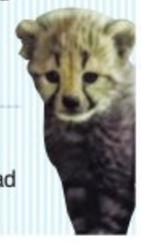
AUGUST 2 Namibian female Tiblisi aka Dhatri, a free ranging cheetah was found dead in the jungles



Once identified as the most suitable location for reintroduction of Asiatic Lions, the Kuno National Park (KNP) in Madhya Pradesh's Sheopur district ended up being home to African cheetahs on Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 72nd birthday—September 17, 2022.

Seventy years after the fastest moving animal on land became extinct due to rampant hunting in the jungles of India, eight semi-adult and adult cheetahs from Namibia were translocated to India as part of the ambitious Cheetah Action Plan to reintroduce the extinct feline variety into the Indian wilds.

Five months later, 12 cheetahs from South Africa joined the Namibian felines at the same national park on February 18, 2023, taking the total cheetah strength to 20.

NINE DEATHS

However, between March 27 and August 2 this year, six semi-adults and three of four cubs died due to various reasons, leading to concern about their conservation. The Centre through the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) recently told the Supreme Court that the deaths were troubling but not "unduly alarming". A joint affidavit, filed on behalf of the environment ministry and the NTCA, said the provisional diagnosis of mortality events points towards "natural causes".

The NTCA added that it had no reason to believe the mortalities were on account of any inherent unsuitability at the Kuno site. Cheetahs in general have a very low survival rate of 50% in adults even in native species. "In the case of introduced population the survival rates are even lower taking other variables into account, which may lead to about 10% survival in cubs, and thus, mortalities (at Kuno) though troubling and in need of redressal and curtailment are not unduly alarming," it said.

The Cheetah Action Plan itself says that even if 50% of the translocated felines survive in the first year of introduction, it would be considered successful in the short run.

As of now, six of the eight Namibian cheetahs (75%) introduced in September 2022 are surviving, while at least seven out of the 12 SA cheetahs (58%) introduced in February 2023 are stated healthy in bomas while an SA female is untraceable in the jungles.

AFRICAN EXPERT'S TAKE

However, a South African expert associated with the project had a different take. He is among the four international experts aboard the Project Cheetah Steering Committee formed by the NTCA in May. A letter signed by Prof Adrian Tordiffe, veterinary wildlife specialist from the University of Pretoria, SA, said, "Currently, 7 out of 8 cheetahs have died in enclosures and the 8th died of infection from the collar. All the 8 deaths were avoidable if there was adequate supervision, monitoring and veterinary intervention."

Pointing to the July 11 death of an SA male, he wrote to the SC that wounds on the back of its neck were assumed by forest officers and vets to have been sustained in an altercation with a female cheetah, which was extremely unlikely. The staff left the injured male and tried to locate the female to check the possibility of injuries to her. During the interregnum, the male's condition deteriorated and it died in the next three hours.

As for the first death outside the enclosures on July 14, one of the letters said, "We learned of it through the media and received no communication from the NTCA or the KNP management. Only at 9 pm, we finally received a video clip showing the neck and back of the deceased animal, which made it clear that the male had severe dermatitis in the area of the neck around the satellite collar. The severely inflamed skin was covered in fly larvae (maggots). The very wet weather due to above average and persistent monsoon rains caused the skin under the tracking collar to become moist, macerated and inflamed. The discharge from the inflammation attracted flies and the maggots that hatched from the fly eggs, further damaging the skin, allowing bacteria to invade and spread, resulting in fatal septicaemia shock."

Just five days after Tordiffe sent his letter on July 15, two South African experts — Vincent Van Der Merwe and Andy Fraiser — claimed their names were used in it without consent. An email on July 20 to M K Ranjitsinh, the head of committee formed by the Supreme Court to assist in the implementation of Project Cheetah, read: "Please know that Dr Andy Frasier and I (Vincent Van Der Merwe) were not supportive of this letter being sent to the top court. We are surprised to see our names reflecting." The July 15 letter had names of three other SA experts, including Fraiser and Merwe and Dr Mike Toft.

Tordiffe's letter said there are management and veterinary issues that need to be dealt with immediately, adding the Indian scientists and managers involved in the project don't have sufficient experience.

RATE OF SURVIVAL IN ADULTS EVEN IN NATIVE SPECIES OF CHEETAHS

INDIAN PUSHBACK

But according to MP's Principal Chief Conservator of Forest-Wildlife (PCCF-Wildlife) Aseem Srivastava, "We've experienced vets, most of whom have been trained in the two African nations. Also, we're in regular touch with the Namibian and SA experts, who keep on giving us sustained cooperation and suggestions, based on which we're always trying to do better on all fronts."

The African experts made a series of suggestions to the SC, including bringing in a senior manager to manage the day-to-day and future activities at Kuno, recruiting an external veterinarian with sufficient cheetah experience, tranquilising and examining all cheetahs, besides conducting habituation training with the cheetahs in the wild. They also highlighted the need for moving more prey species into the Kuno.

Senior Indian carnivore scientist Prof Y V Jhala, who was part of the cheetah project, had maintained active contact with the African experts. But the Centre in February last, cut the two-year extension it granted to him on his superannuation on February 28, 2022, to one year. Jhala is known to have prepared the technical ground for the cheetah project since 2009.

Prof Adrian Tordiffe complained to the SC that the involvement of the African experts diminished ever since Jhala's retirement. "Very little information has been forthcoming from Kuno regarding cheetahs and their care. Although we're listed on the Cheetah Project Steering Committee as international experts, we have never been consulted by them or invited to any of their meetings," he charged. But Rajesh Gopal, chairman of the Steering Committee, denied the allegations, saying 15 members were present at the last meeting and their recommendations were duly considered.

ALTERNATIVE SITES

In a letter to the SC, Dr Laurie Marker, founder of the Namibia-based research institution, Cheetah Conservation Fund, underscored the need for a second site apart from Kuno for the long term success of the project. As the upgradation of Gandhi Sagar Sanctuary in MP is unlikely to be over by this year-end, the Mukundra Tiger Reserve in Rajasthan could be the best and safest second site, which is already available. In April last, the state's former PCCF-Wildlife J S Chauhan had written to the NTCA to consider shifting some cheetahs to alternative sites in MP.

With the upcoming movie Jawan starring Shah Rukh Khan making headlines recently, SRK's co-star singer-actor Sanjeeta Bhattacharya speaks about working on the film and her latest track X Marks the Spot

MONIKA MONALISA

TURNING BLUES INTO BALLADS

SINGER-actor Sanjeeta Bhattacharya's voice is often described to be as smooth as butter with a calming effect on listeners. And this can be felt in her latest song X Marks the Spot. The song, written during the summer of 2019, has an intriguing backstory.

"I was reading the news about the Amazon Rainforest being on fire for three weeks, which really upset me. I was also going through turmoil in my personal relationships. Basically it was general unrest inside-out. I put all of my anger, angst, frustration and confusion on paper and that is what X Marks the Spot is about. It is from my diary entries which were full of rage," she says adding that all she had to do was put a melody to her emotions.

A still from Jawan

The song is in collaboration with producer Prabhtoj Singh. Usually singers hope to strike a chord with their work, but Bhattacharya hopes that people are 'not able to relate to it'. "I really don't wish that state upon anyone. I am sure we all have gone through something that has shaken us and I feel the best way to get it out is to write about it. For me, it was through songwriting," says Bhattacharya.

Looking forward, in September, she will be seen in Atlee-directed Jawan, whose song – Zinda Banda – released recently. She will be part of Shah Rukh Khan's 'core team', where she will be seen shaking a leg with the star. "When I got a call for the audition, I was in Kolkata and almost let it go. But I happened to audition for the role very nonchalantly because till then, I only knew about the plot. When I got selected, they told me it was with Shah Rukh Khan. I'm living the dream of millions. I am glad I listened to my gut about the movie and went ahead," says an excited Bhattacharya, adding the movie is going to be more than the songs, dances and the big names attached to it. She adds, "The message the movie contains is the hero of the film."

FIT BIT

ARDHA UTTANASANA WALL
(UPWARD FORWARD FOLD WALL)

This pose is a modification of Upward Forward Fold Hands On Shins, but with the support of a wall. It can be included in therapy yoga to help address issues related to slip disc or when the back and shoulders, feels tired due to stiff and tight muscles.

STEPS

- Start with Tadasana facing the wall with a one arm distance.
- Inhale, raise your arms, and exhale by stretching them and place your palms on the wall.
- Keep the arms straight, in line with the chest, and gently lean forward with the upper torso.
- Bend your knees and gently push the wall with your palms and bend from the hips.
- Exhaling, start walking a few steps back until your arms are straight at shoulders level.
- Ensure the shoulders and wrists are one behind the other, while also keeping the palms parallel to each other.
- Exhale. Broaden the chest and bend forward at the waist.
- Lengthen the entire back, gently pushing the hips out, slowly coming with your upper body parallel to the floor.
- Drop your head keeping the chin away from the chest and ensure the upper arms are away from the ears.
- Hold the L-shape forward bend in front of the wall for 4-6 deep breaths.
- By each exhalation, go deeper with the forward bend as you push the hips out and bring the abdomen to the thighs.
- To release, gently come back to Tadasana.

BENEFITS

- Stretches the tight hamstrings, while engaging the gluteus, back and core muscles.
- Increasing space between the vertebrae, lengthens spine, gaining flexibility.
- Supports the diaphragm and intercostal muscles.
- Work together, your mind to shoulders and hips to lengthen the spine.
- Focuses on keeping the body alignment.
- Tones the spine, especially for those with a hunched back, or kyphosis.
- Engages the core and pelvis muscles.
- Allows free flow of prana.
- Stimulates the parasympathetic nervous system.
- Brings balance in the nervous system.
- Helps who spend long hours at the desk, television, playing games, etc.

LIMITATIONS

People with injury, tightness in shoulders and hands, undergone abdominal, pelvis, chest, knees, or spine surgery, vertigo, BP, abdominal hernia, joint pain sciatica, herniated disc should avoid this.

Kichcha Sudeep targets December release for K46

During his media interaction, the multilingual actor has also unveiled his plan to have two releases annually, and also to have given the green light to four new projects

CE FEATURES

RECENTLY, we had reported that Kichcha Sudeep has begun shooting for his upcoming project K46 in Tamil Nadu under the direction of Vijay Karthikeya. Produced by Kalaippuli S Thanu, the shooting of the film is currently taking place in the picturesque Mahabalipuram.

During this first leg of shooting, Sudeep has taken time to interact with a certain section of the media, where he revealed some exciting news about K46, and about his other projects. The multi-lingual actor shares that K46 is on track for a December release. According to Sudeep, a meticulously planned schedule has been charted out, with the initial schedule spanning until the month's end. After a brief break for his birthday celebrations in September first week, the actor will resume shooting.

"The concept for K46 was approved in July last year. Following intricate narrative development, the production seamlessly transitioned into the filming phase," he mentioned. Sudeep went on to share that the film was initially envisioned as a Tamil project, but evolved into a Kannada film and eventually a pan-India project, spearheaded by Kannada technicians like composer Ajaneesh Loknath and cinematography by Shekhar Chandra.

Apart from his involvement in K46, Sudeep is said to have finalised four other projects, including his milestone 50th film. The actor, who plan to have two releases annually, intends to unveil further details about these ventures in the upcoming days.

RAJ B SHETTY'S TOBY PROMISES A MOVING CELLULOID EXPERIENCE

The film, having released the trailer, is all set to hit the theaters on August 25

A still from Toby

A SHARADHAA

A while ago, filmmaker Raj B Shetty had initially introduced his upcoming project, as "When you hurt an artist, a poem of rage comes out," illustrating how an emotionally charged artist gives birth to a poignant creation. This surge of anger seems to have transformed into the cinematic creation Toby, and the trailer of the film has excited all sections of the audience. The enticing 3-minute featurette offers a glimpse into the story centred around a liberated character, commonly referred to as a sheep. Escaping a grim fate, 'the sheep' embarks on a powerful transformative journey back to its serene village. The trailer reveals a strong message showcasing an individual's ability to reclaim strength with an undeniable force and intensity when pushed to their limits.

The film is directed by Raj's former associate, Basil AL Chalakkal. Apart from playing the titular role, Raj has penned the story. In the film his character embodies the spirit of Maari, a persona primarily motivated by his inner self, exhibiting both individuality and mass appeal. He is joined by actors Chaithra Achar, Samyuktha Hornad, Deepak Shetty, and Gopalkrishna Deshpande.

Toby likely holds more depth to it than what was anticipated and the trailer seems to be just a glimpse of what is in store.

To by, produced by Lighter Buddha Films in association with Agastya Films, set to be distributed by KVN Productions across Karnataka on August 25th. The film has Raj B Shetty collaboration with music director Midhun Mukundan and cinematographer Praveen Shriyan again.

The fiery onslaught is here! Smashing down the gates to the planet of #TOBY

KOUSALYA SUPRAJA RAMA HEADS OVERSEAS

A still from the film

CE FEATURES

SHASHANK and his team are overjoyed by the positive reception and praise received for Kousalya Supraja Rama (KSR), which was released on July 28. As the movie enters its second week, the director, along with actors Krishna, Milana Nagaraj, Brinda Acharya, and Nagabhushan, are on a success tour visiting various districts across Karnataka such as Mandya, Mysuru, and Tumkur among other places. In addition to its domestic release in Chennai, Hyderabad, and Mumbai, KSR has also released overseas in the United States and Canada on August 4.

An enthusiastic Shashank expresses his satisfaction that a film addressing male chauvinism has been embraced so warmly by all segments of the audience. He says, "Audiences are discussing a potential sequel to KSR, featuring Krishna and Milana as a couple. I find the idea appealing, but I am currently focused on basking in the success of KSR and I plan to consider it in the future." KSR, produced by Shashank in collaboration with actor and politician BC Patil, has music composed by Arjun Janya and cinematography by Sugnaan.

Komal Kumar anchors this lacklustre horror comedy

A SHARADHAA

NOTED dance choreographer-turned-director, Murali, marked his directorial debut with Namo Bhootatma in 2014, a remake of the Tamil film Yaamirukka Bayamey. Now, with Namo Bhoothathma 2, which presents itself as an original concept, the director takes us on a whimsical and unpredictable journey through a puzzling yet amusing haunted house.

For lovers of horror-comedy, an essential element is an eerie and isolated haunted house. Director Murali not only fulfills this criterion but also goes beyond, creating an unsettling backdrop in Chickamagalur that becomes the central plot. There are also some supernatural pranks and mischievous exploits packed into the narrative. Just when you think an abandoned toy couldn't evoke chills, Namo Bhoothathma 2 playfully proves you wrong.

The film begins with Ajrun (Komal Kumar), an employee at a TV channel, with his colleague, Garuda (Govinde Gowda), orchestrating a side-splitting prank that inadvertently entangles his team in a web of trouble. While the ensuing confusion leaves you in stitches, the entry of two troublemakers further amplifies the chaos. In an attempt to evade the impending storm, as advised by the channel's head, Arjun and his colleagues, Amrutha (Lekha Chandra), Nandini (Monica), and Shreyas embark on an unforgettable retreat to an allegedly haunted guest house.

The eerie occurrences and peculiar events redefine the notion of a 'comedy of errors' and it also offers a rollercoaster ride of laughter and suspense.

Director Murali, renowned for his dance prowess, nine years later fearlessly returns to the director's chair following the success of the initial instalment. While the premise may be familiar, it's the execution that falls short, testing your patience with its lacklustre and archaic approach. The film's humour often falls flat, overly relying on recycled and distasteful jokes that might leave you yearning for more innovative punchlines.

Although the film doesn't consistently hit the mark with its humour, Komal Kumar's comedic timing acts as a lifeline, serving as the saving grace that ties together the mishmash of gags. His comic brilliance keeps you engaged, often reminiscent of his brother Jaggesh's expressions. While his chemistry with the remaining cast adds a touch of familiarity to the otherworldly chaos, the rest of the ensemble, particularly GG, who tends to go overboard, and Lekha Chandra, who struggles to emote, alongside two other actors confined to their dance routines as a hobby, fail to contribute significantly, leaving you eagerly, awaiting for the credits to roll.

In the vast landscape of horror-comedy, Namo Bhoothathma 2 weaves hilarity and supernatural intrigue. While the film may not achieve flawless victory, Komal Kumar's presence makes it somewhat watchable. So prepare yourself for a visit to a spooky house, but only if you're seeking laughter from cheesy jokes more than the real scares. The choice is yours. Meanwhile, it seems like we should prepare ourselves for another instalment in the hinted franchise to Namo Bhoothathma 2 titled TK Dhewa.

NAMO BHOOTHATMA 2
Director: Murali
Cast: Komal Kumar, Lekha Chandra, Govinde Gowda, Monica, and Mahantesh Hiremath

'ACCESS TO JUSTICE': A SILVER JUBILEE RESOLUTION BY RAMAIAH COLLEGE OF LAW

RAMAIAH College of Law (RCL) in association with Karnataka State Legal Services Authority (KSLSA) organised the inaugural ceremony of 'Access to Justice Conclave' recently at the Ramaiah College of Law Campus. The event was conducted on the occasion of celebrating the Silver Jubilee of the Ramaiah college of Law and the birth centenary year of the founder chairman Dr. M. S. Ramaiah. "A very important aspect of justice is to make it accessible," said M.R.Anand Ram, Director, Ramaiah College of Law and Trustee, Gokula Education Foundation during his welcome address.

In the inaugural address, Justice S. Abdul Nazeer, the Governor of Andhra Pradesh and the chief guest of honour, mentioned that the aim of 'access to justice' is to provide a platform to legal clinics and draw inspiration from other legal clinics from around the world.

To further underline the importance of generalising law, a legal awareness skit was enacted by the RCL students projecting the reality of thousands of underprivileged people who are not aware of the legal and constitutional rights. In her keynote speech, Justice B. V. Nagarathna, a judge of the Supreme Court of India, stated, "Access to courts is access to justice. This includes enabling disadvantaged sections of the society to overcome barriers getting into courts, ensuring that appropriate treatment is given within the court itself."

R&D and Manufacturing Unit of Indic Keyboards at NMIT

NITTE Meenakshi Institute of Technology, Bengaluru and Ka-Naada Phonetics Pvt. Ltd. launched a new Research & Development-cum Manufacturing Unit of Indic Keyboards to address digital initiatives of Indian languages, as a part of Atal Community Innovation Centre, inside the college campus.

"At NMIT, this Research Facility uses advanced technologies for manufacturing keyboards of Indic languages, using robots for automation," Dr. H.C. Nagaraj, Principal, NMIT said.

The CEO & Managing Director of Ka-Naada Phonetics, Dr. Guruprasad also spoke on the occasion. He said, "This unit is prioritising the US-India patent under Make-in-India programme for Digital India initiatives."

AIMS Institutes Explores ESG

AIMS Institutes recently commenced its National Management Week, scheduled till 7th August 2023. With a lineup of over 36 events, the week-long celebration aims to explore the vital theme of 'ESG through the lens of UN SDGs'.

"Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) principles have gained immense importance in today's world, and this Management Week serves as an ideal platform to delve into their significance. By aligning these principles with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), we endeavour to foster a deeper understanding of sustainable practices and their impact on businesses and society," Dr Kiran Reddy, Founder, AIMS Institutes.

Throughout the week, participants will have the unique opportunity to engage with renowned industry experts, distinguished scholars, and passionate changemakers who will share their invaluable insights. The event's agenda includes interactive workshops, thought-provoking panel discussions, and exciting competitions that aim to inspire and empower attendees to embrace sustainable and socially responsible practices.
